UAW Headquarters Has A Close Call

Dynamite Plot In Detroit Fails

... Explosion Averted By Defective Fuses

DETROIT—(AP)—Unknown plotters laid a huge dynamite charge at the international headquarters of the CIO United Auto Workers last night, but it failed to go off.

Union officers immediately clamped security measures on the three-story building today.

A box containing 39 sticks of dynamite and tied in Christmas wrapping was removed by police to their scientific laboratory for examination. The sticks were found on a little-used outside stairway leading to the UAW headquarters basement.

"It was enough to blow up a city block," one officer said.

Lives Endangered.

Daily Prayer

By Rev. H. M. Goede.

(Frieden's Lutheran Church.)

O Lord most Holy, our Gracious

Father in Heaven, as we draw near to Thee in this fellowship of prayer, we implore Thee, through faith in the atoning Saviour, Jesus

Christ, Thy Son, forgive us our many sins and shortcomings. Cleanse

our hearts and create in us

through the indwelling

of Thy Holy Spirit, a continuing consciousness of Thy concern for the salvation and well-being of all men. Grant that we may fervently desire, wisely seek and diligently fulfill

Thy Holy will, and that thus dedicated to Thee and to the welfare of our fellow men, we may be enabled to rise above the perplexities

of this discordant age and that with true Christian zeal we may aspire to achieve those things which are pleasing to Thee. To that end bless us as individuals and as a nation so that in unity of Spirit we may strive for peace and brotherhood among all people. This we pray in the name of our blessed Lord, the Prince of Peace. Amen.

Beltzer Estate Value $104,306

The estate of James E. Beltzer, who died July 3, is valued at $104,306 in an appraisal filed in County court.

Notes are listed at $54,689, cash at $11,070 and stocks $5,200. Including in the listing are 46 pin-ball machines and 28 music boxes valued at $13,000.

Of the total estate, $19,503 is held in joint tenancy. Bulk of this amount is in notes and stocks. Under terms of the will, the entire estate is bequeathed to the widow, Fay C. Beltzer.

Beltzer was a former University of Nebraska athlete and reorganizer of the Nebraska State Baseball league.

Local Chamber Backs Mead For Air Academy

Seeks Co-operation Of Other Communities

A recommendation will be made by the chamber of commerce business expansion committee that the proposed air force 150 million dollar academy be located at the site of the present Mead ordnance plant.

The decision to make the recommendation was reached at a meeting of the committee Wednesday. The committee hopes to forward a recommendation of this nature to the special site selection board of the U. S. air forces before the Dec. 31 deadline.

It was also decided that the Lincoln group would work with other communities, notably, Fremont, Wahoo and Omaha, who are also seeking location of the academy at Mead.

It is expected that the site selection board will order a full investigation of the proposed Mead area some time after the first of the year.

Best Bid Possible.

After consideration, it was decided that this was the best bid that could be made in the interests of Lincoln and eastern Nebraska, Walter W. White, committee chairman, said. The government owns the property and there is represented there much more than the required 9,000 acres needed for the academy, he pointed out.

He added that Mead was centrally located between metropolitan cities—Lincoln and Omaha—which have outstanding educational and cultural facilities. These are part of the criteria that the air force has set up in considering a site.

Hinds Reports.

The academy would beat Lincoln's "doorstep" if it were located at Mead, Mr. White said, because of the largeness of the academy, and the entire area, as well as Lincoln, would benefit.

Harold H. Hinds, chairman of the chamber aviation committee, presented information on the requirements for the site.

He said he was confident that a united request such as that contemplated will result in the Mead site being surveyed because it conforms to all basic requirements.

Hinds recently returned from Washington, D. C., where he made a personal investigation of the proposed academy.

Reuther Brothers Shot.

Within less than two years would-be assassins have tried to kill two of the UAW's prominent Reuther brothers.

Walter Reuther, president of the UAW, was shot by an unknown assailant in April of 1946. He almost lost the use of an arm.

Victor Reuther, the union's educational director, lost an eye in a similar shotgun attack last May.

Both of the shootings still are unsolved.

Police immediately linked last night's incident with the attempts on the Reuthers' lives.

School Near Tobias Destroyed By Fire

Saline County Supt. Mary Dodson reported to the state department of public instruction Wednesday that a rural school near Tobias burned Tuesday night.

The school served its own district as well as pupils under contract from a neighboring district.

F. B. Decker, director of administration in the state department, said the school in the district from which the contract pupils came might be used for the remainder of the term.

Snow Here Driven By High Winds

Near Blizzard Seen For Area Tonight; 4-6 Inches Predicted

Snows and increasing winds approaching blizzard proportions are scheduled to reach Lincoln late Wednesday afternoon or night, the weather bureau reported at 2:30 p. m.

The wind and snow will combine with temperatures near zero in the west to five or 10 above in the southeast to give winter's official beginning at 10:24 p. m. Wednesday a frigid sendoff.

Northerly winds are expected to hit 40 to 50 miles per hour tonight, and the snow is to be moderate to heavy, with a total fall of seven inches in the extreme southeast part of the state. Snowfall in Lincoln should reach four to six inches, forecasters said.

A light snow was falling in the southeastern part of the state by 1:30 p. m. Points reporting snow, besides Lincoln, were Seward, Fairbury, York, Pleasant Dale, Denton, and Raymond. There were no strong winds reported, but a slight breeze was blowing at Denton.

Skies will be partly cloudy through Thursday, bringing occasional light snow in the extreme west Thursday afternoon.

Colder Thursday.

And it's supposed to get even colder in the west and north Thursday afternoon and night.

A new state low for the season was marked up Wednesday morning at Chadron where the state's latest cold wave sent temperatures skidding down to three below zero. Temperatures also went below the zero mark at Scottsbluff where one below was recorded.

A new seasonal low also was chalked up at Lincoln. The mercury got down to 10 above.

The light snows which fell over many parts of the state Tuesday left no measurable amount of precipitation except .03 at Sidney.

Skies were clear over the north and west and cloudy over the southeast, with extreme east Wednesday morning.

The state's high Tuesday was 38 at the Lincoln airport. In Lincoln, the high was 36.

THE WEATHER

LINCOLN—Partly cloudy with low near 12 tonight; Thursday partly cloudy to fair, high near 21. Fresh north winds 16 to 22 miles per hour early tonight.

NEBRASKA—Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday. Thursday, continued cold except becoming colder in west and north. Friday afternoon and night, low tonight zero to 10 above, high Thursday in 20s.

KANSAS—Snow ending tonight except ending in southeast portion Thursday, becoming partly cloudy; colder tonight, low zero to 10 above in west and north, 10-15 in southeast, highs Thursday in 20s.

Mother, Daughter Together First Time In 26 Years

This will be a truly joyous Christmas for Mrs. Mary Collins of 4433 North Seventeenth street. For her Christmas present will be a living one, her mother.

For 26 years, since she was four years old, Mrs. Collins hasn't seen her mother. She didn't even know whether her mother was living, for that matter.

But last September, Mrs. Collins was placed in contact with her mother by a sister who lives in Gardena, Calif. Since that time, the mother and the daughter have been corresponding and living for the moment they could meet face to face.

So, two brothers, who also live in California, arranged for the mother to come to Nebraska to visit her daughter, and another son, whom she hasn't seen for 26 years.

The trip arrangements were the brothers' Christmas present to their mother but, Mrs. Collins said, "It's really a Christmas present for me, as well as mother."

Mrs. Collins related that when she was four and her youngest brother one, they were taken from their home, while their mother was in the hospital and their father away working, and placed in the state home for dependent children in Lincoln.

After spending about a year in the home, both she and her brother were adopted in foster homes. She said they both had a happy home life with their foster parents.

But all through the years Mrs. Collins and her brother wondered about their mother and father. Now they have found their mother and discovered that their father died in 1924, shortly after they were placed in the home. They have also been reunited by mail with several other brothers and sisters.

Mrs. Collins said this Christmas will really be a happy one. Besides having a big holiday dinner and a few surprise gifts, the bulk of their time will be spent in filling the span of years that they have been apart.

Together will be the mother, Mrs. Catherine Lamb, Mrs. Collins, a brother, Beatrice, and the younger brother from Lincoln.

Mrs. Collins is planning in the near future to visit her other brothers and sisters she has not seen for sometime.

The legal effect of the inclusion of this language within the bond itself is in dispute. That is a part of the basis of a suit now pending the Lancaster county district court for a declaratory judgment seeking final court ruling upon the legal snarls involved in the controversy over the building site for the auditorium and arena originally designed by the associated architects for Fifteenth Street, and which is now proposed shall be constructed on the Rogers tract at Thirty-third and O, or some other site.

In the belief that a great many of the people of Lincoln were unfamiliar with the paragraph contained in the bonds themselves, The Lincoln Star photographed a copy of one and it appears here.

Still another section of the charter, in case of general obligation bonds, provides that the council can levy to raise adequate revenue to meet outstanding general obligations in the event a specifically authorized levy is inadequate. It is this charter provision that those who favor another site say will permit a change to a different location.

Truman Says: People Want No War

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman said today there would never be another war if the peoples of the world, "sick of blood-letting," could have their way.

But while captive peoples "are made to respond to our handclasp with a mailed fist, we have no choice but to stand ready in self defense," he declared.

The president spoke at Arlington national cemetery, accepting a carillon memorial to the war dead from the American Veterans of World War II. Allied diplomats from many nations, and high ranking military and civilian officials were in the audience.

Allusions To Russia Plain.

It was only coincidence that Mr. Truman spoke on the birthday of Soviet Russia's Premier Stalin and he did not mention Russia by name.

But allusions to the Russian threat to peace were plain and repeated. They were clear, too, in a brief address from Norwegian Ambassador Wilhelm Munthe De Morgenstjerne, the dean of the diplomatic corps.

"Western Europe is now producing 20 per cent more than its industrial level in prewar days. Agriculturally, it is equal to pre-war production marks."

Hoffman made his remarks to newsmen yesterday when he was honored by the Tournament of Roses association, for which he will serve as grand marshal Jan. 2. He singled out Belgium as making the most rapid strides under American aid.

Greece, which he said made the least response, was handicapped by Mussolini, Hitler and Stalin. He said that if these men now, she can be expected to show progress.

JAPAN OCCUPATION COST WILL BE CUT NEXT YEAR

WASHINGTON—(INS)—Army Undersecretary Voorhees said today that the United States expects to reduce its occupation costs in Japan next year by about one-third—a saving of 150 million dollars.

Voorhees said that Gen. Douglas MacArthur is a "dedicated man" who is doing a "grand job" of administering Japan, and that the Japanese is better off than he ever was before.

The undersecretary, who is in charge of army occupation policy and recently returned from Tokyo, told a news conference that Japan is being run "most economically" and "is not a heavy burden of the taxpayer."

Mrs. Knapp, 74, Onetime Nebraska Resident, Dies

SAN GABRIEL, Calif.—Mrs. Charlotte Brede Knapp, 74, native of Nebraska, died here Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Knapp Nauslar.

Mrs. Knapp was born in Plattsmouth, Neb., in 1875, the daughter of William Brede and Mary Cook Brede, and her girlhood was spent at Hastings, Neb., and New Orleans, La. She was a sister of the late Adam Brede, founder of the Hastings Tribune.

She was an accomplished musician, having studied music at Hastings college and violin in New York for several years. She was married in October, 1904, at Hastings, to Theodore F. Knapp, a Spanish American war veteran.

From 1912 until his death in 1922 he was a pharmacist at McCool Junction, Neb.

The Knapps had two children, Dorothy Knapp Nauslar, and one son, Theodore Jr., who died in 1928 while a student in Yale university at New Haven, Conn.

Mrs. Knapp was a member of the Presbyterian church and active in Red Cross work. For the past 20 years she had resided in Carlsbad and San Gabriel, Calif.

Purial services will be held in York, Neb., Saturday morning at Metz mortuary.

Michigan Solon Opposes Recognizing Red China

... He Would Grant Full Recognition To Franco

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich.) called today for continued economic and military aid to western Europe, but said it should be on a "sharply reduced" scale.

Vandenberg, who wields great influence on republican foreign policy stands, also told a news conference that:

1. The communist regime in China should be recognized by this country only when it demonstrated it has control of that country and will carry out the basic obligations of international law. He said communist China does not now meet these requirements.

2. Full diplomatic recognition should be granted to the Franco government in Spain.

3. The bipartisan foreign policy involves no "me-tooism" on the part of the republicans since it is open to vigorous debate while decisions are in the process of being made.

4. The objective of the republican party should be "to restore the American system to safe foundations before it is too late, and to gear dependable progress with national solvency and individual freedom."

Hoffman sees end of Marshall plan in 1952

PASADENA, Cal.—(INS)—Paul G. Hoffman believes that stepped-up industrial and agricultural output may enable the ending of Marshall plan aid to Europe by June 30, 1952. The head of the economic co-operation administration says:

"Western Europe is now producing 20 per cent more than its industrial level in prewar days. Agriculturally, it is equal to pre-war production marks."

Hoffman made his remarks to newsmen yesterday when he was honored by the Tournament of Roses association, for which he will serve as grand marshal Jan. 2. He singled out Belgium as making the most rapid strides under American aid.

State Firms May Ask For Phone Loans

29 Companies Indicate Interest In REA Plan

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The REA said today 29 Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota companies have indicated they may apply for federal loans under the new program for expansion and improvement of rural telephone service.

Congress last session authorized the rural electrification administration to make the loans and administer the program. REA was given an initial appropriation of $25,000,000 for the purpose.

Considerable interest has been shown from every section of the United States, REA said. So far 534 existing companies have contacted REA, plus 93 other groups which have indicated interest in forming new telephone exchanges.

35 Year Limit.

The loans are to be made for not more than 35 years, at two percent interest. Preference will be given existing systems and cooperative, non-profit, limited dividend or mutual association.

During the first year of the program, applications from existing companies must be considered before applications from new enterprises.

The REA declined to identify the interested parties in the three states. A spokesman said a reporter asking companies which have said they may apply for loans are located in the following counties: Nebraska: Chase, Clay, Deuel, Kearney, Lincoln, Lancaster, Nemaha, Platte, and York. South Dakota: Deuel, Lincoln, and Lawrence.

Indications that new exchanges may be formed have come from this county: Nebraska: Sioux.

Entire State Is Now Included In Soil Conservation

The state soil conservation committee, meeting at the Lincoln hotel Wednesday noon, approved the organization of the 87th and last soil conservation district in Nebraska.

The last district organized was Perkins county. The entire state is now covered by conservation districts.

Members of the committee are Dr. G. E. Condra, chairman, H. G. Gould, W. V. Lambert, and E. G. Jones, executive secretary. Former members present at the meeting were W. H. Brokaw, W. W. Burr and H. E. Engstrom.

These will be distributed while a full hour of vaudeville and music is held. The program is free to all children. (Staff Photo.)

Annual Elks' Christmas Party For Children Moved To Dec. 24

More than 4,000 treats will be prepared for children expected to attend the annual Christmas party given by the Lincoln Elks on Saturday, 9 to 12 a. m., at the University of Nebraska coliseum.

Usually given on Christmas day, the free party has been moved one day because of Christmas falling on Sunday.

Along with the candy, nuts and fruit in the sacks the children will be treated to a three-hour program. Included on the program are selections by the Burlington band, directed by John Shildneck; carol singing by the children, a

Fairbury Hangar Leveled By Fire Had Short Life

(Special to The Star)

FAIRBURY, Neb.—The Fairbury municipal airport hangar destroyed by fire Tuesday had been in existence only seven years.

Built as an N.Y.A. project in 1941-42, a 50-foot shop had been added to the main structure in 1942.

The hangar was insured by the city for 90 percent of value, according to R. B. Felton, head of the Fairbury Association of Insurance Agencies. All city buildings are insured the same way, he explained.

Value of the building for insurance purposes had been set at $19,300 some time ago, G. E. Bell, superintendent of utilities, said.

The ground was leased to the city for the airport in 1939.

709 Registrations Are Cancelled By Vote Commissioner

Election Commissioner Ray Frohn announced he has cancelled 709 voter registrations that were challenged at the 1948 presidential election.

Although all of the 709 persons were warned this fall that their registrations would be cancelled unless they proved they were registered correctly, none contacted the commissioner's office.

The cancellations brought registration to 42,007 as of Wednesday. At the last election, May 3, 42,804 persons were registered. Since then 214 have died and 94 new registrations received. Several other persons have changed addresses or asked that their registrations be dropped.

70 Per. Of Goal Hit In Sales Of Christmas Seals

The Christmas seal sales Wednesday reached 70 per cent of the $21,000 quota, Joe W. Seacrest, chairman, announced. Total sales to date are $14,721.13.

"A successful seal sale is dependent on moderate purchases of seals by a great many people," Seacrest said, "and we are grateful to the thousands of friends who have already acknowledged their seals, and to that other 30 per cent who from past experience we know we can count on in the end to pay for their seals."

"We all know," he said, "that the existence of the free chest X-ray survey center and other tuberculosis control agencies of the tuberculosis association are supported solely by the sale of Christmas seals."

Wholesale Food Index 50c Under 1948 Level

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Dun & Bradstreet wholesale food price index this week declined one cent from a week ago to $5.73, and was 8 per cent below the year-ago level of $6.23.

The figure represents the total cost at wholesale of a pound each of 31 foods in general use.

Higher this week were beef, lard, cottonseed oil, cocoa, steers and hogs.

Ernest G. Spealman, Lincoln Attorney, Dies At Home Here

Ernest G. Spealman, 69, Lincoln attorney for 47 years, died Wednesday morning at his home, 2964 O street.

Mr. Spealman had been a Lincoln resident for 12 years.

He was a graduate of the law college of the University of Nebraska with the class of 1902. He was admitted to the bar in Nebraska June 11, 1902.

John Dederman, 89, One Of Norfolk's Settlers, Is Dead

NORFOLK, Neb.—(AP)—John F. Dederman, sr., 89, who was one of the colony of settlers from Wisconsin who arrived in Norfolk July 14, 1866, and founded the village of Norfolk died early Wednesday at his home here.

The colonists arrived at what is now Norfolk on his sixth birthday anniversary. The homestead taken by the Dederman family is now a part of the city itself.

The winter after the colony's arrival the elder Dederman built a log cabin for a home, located in the present residential section of Norfolk. Several years ago J. F. Dederman gave the log cabin to the city as a historic building and it is now located in Johnson park here.

Dederman is survived by eight sons and daughters, all in the Norfolk vicinity, and a large number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Dr. Reed Named President-Elect Medical Society

Dr. E. B. Reed was chosen president-elect of the Lancaster County Medical society at its annual business meeting Tuesday night. He will take office January 1, 1951 to serve a one-year term.

Dr. F. D. Coleman, former president-elect, will serve as president for the coming year. He replaces Dr. H. E. Harvey.

Dr. John A. Brown was named secretary-treasurer. New members named to the board of trustees, were Dr. George H. Misko, who succeeds Dr. E. B. Reed, and Dr. Paul Bancroft, who succeeds Dr. O. A. Neely.

Committee and budget reports were given following the election. Retiring president Dr. H. E. Harvey presided.

BIBLICAL FIRST CENTURY COIN—The coin pictured above is believed to be the same kind used by Joseph when he took Mary to Bethlehem to pay their taxes to the Romans the year Christ was born. This kind of coin was commonly used by Jews to pay their head taxes to Rome. The coin pictured above, owned by Rev. Gordon H. Schroeder, pastor of the First Baptist church, Lincoln, is in a good state of preservation. It has the image of Caesar Augustus on one side, left, and the Princes Caius and Lucius shown receiving their shields and lances as tokens of knighthood, on the other, right. The coin, called a denarius of Caesar Augustus, will be shown at the church Sunday. The story will be told at the 11 a. m. service. (Staff Photo.)

Coin Like Joseph Used On Display Here

Rev. Gordon H. Schroeder, pastor of the First Baptist church, will display Sunday a first century silver coin believed to be like the one Joseph used when he took Mary to Bethlehem to pay their taxes the year Christ was born.

The coin, called a denarius, was commonly used by Jews to pay their head taxes to Rome, according to Rev. Schroeder, who has made a detailed study of its history.

He obtained the coin from Charles Tuckwood, an official of the Philadelphia Transportation company and a collector of Biblical coins. It came originally from a London coin collector.

The coin displays the image of Caesar Augustus on one side, who was emperor of Rome at the time Jesus was born. The other side shows the Princes Caius and Lucius receiving silver shields and lances as tokens of knighthood.

Rev. Schroeder believes that this type coin was probably used at the time the Pharisees asked Jesus whether or not they should pay taxes to Rome. It was then that Jesus asked for a coin and then replied, "Render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's."

There are also two other coins in Rev. Schroeder's collection that date back to the first century. One commonly referred to as a widow's mite has the likeness of Pontius Pilate. The other, known as a spater is believed to be similar to

1951 Budget Of 43 Billion Foreseen

Congress Will Be Asked To Restore Slashed Taxes

... Balanced Budget Desired By President Truman

WASHINGTON—(INS)—President Truman's budget for the 1951 fiscal year will be 43 billion 500 million dollars.

This is the figure the chief executive has determined upon for operating the national government for the next fiscal year and to carry on its arms and economic aid as "war preventive" measures abroad.

The president held a lengthy conference on high fiscal policy yesterday with his top financial advisers almost immediately upon his return from Florida.

Decisions Reached.

These decisions are understood to have been reached:

1. The budget for the 1951 fiscal year must run to 43.5 billion despite stringent efforts at economies ordered by the president.
2. Congress will be urged in the most emphatic terms to restore the four billion-plus tax slash legislated by the republican-majority 80th congress.
3. The president will ask for a balanced budget as the only sound way in which to operate the national economy.
4. New taxes will be requested in the areas the administration contends are best able to stand them—high corporate incomes and the middle and higher personal income brackets.

5. Although the "working base" of estimated federal revenue for the next fiscal year is 38 billions, the nation's continuing high state of economy holds forth promise of higher revenue return.

Confers With Snyder. The president was closed in his office with Treasury Secretary John Snyder and Budget Director Frank Pace for a good part of the afternoon yesterday. They held a thorough review of the nation's fiscal problems and the policies to be pushed by the administration for the 1951 fiscal year which begins July 1. It was recognized that the forthcoming budget will set a peacetime record. The president was understood to be emphatic that every effort must be made, however, to persuade congress to bring in sufficient revenues to operate a balanced budget.

FARM WOMEN'S EXCHANGE

Edited By CLARA BELL GRAVES.

The story comes to us that there is an increased interest in religious Christmas cards this coming Christmas. According to the estimate of card publishers, there will be 300,000,000 religious cards mailed out this year. More than 200,000,000 of the 1949 cards portray the traditional and well beloved nativity scenes, with Mary and the infant Jesus in the manger, Joseph resting in the desert and Joseph nearby, gathering dates from an oasis tree under a starry sky.

Reproduced Paintings

Reproduction of the great religious paintings of Renaissance Italy, Holland and Spain are steadily gaining favor as Christmas cards.

About 100,000,000 Christmas cards this year portray children praying, supplicating choirs and church windows, also open Bibles.

Mother's Opportunity

And in connection with all this, I would urge upon the mothers who read my column to present in some form or other the scene of the nativity in the home, on a table, above a fireplace, at the foot of the Christmas tree. For there is no better opportunity to present the infant Jesus and to tell the story of His birth than at Christmas time, when the impressionable child is all ready for the real meaning of Christmas.

Santa a Myth

Santa Claus is a myth, but Christ is a reality. Children prompt us to differentiate between myth and reality. We might as well be prepared.

Don't Dissuade Children

It is always interesting to know that children have their various reasons for wanting such and such a gift. It is a happy occasion for them, this time of gift-giving and the privilege of telling a fictitious or a real Santa what they want. If your child wants a toy, try to get him that toy.

The hurt that is in my own heart never will heal but opens up every Christmas-time when I remember a little girl that I loved wanting a desk and being told to ask for a raincoat because that was the more practical. She was disappointed and though we tried to make a new desk out of an old one, she never was satisfied.

She is the mother of children and will be preparing the tree and gifts for her little ones, but she never has had her desk, a bright, new desk where she may keep all of her papers. Maybe when her house some day can accommodate a desk, she will have one.

Christmas Tree Joys

Every child wants a Christmas tree. Trees are not costly. If they seem to outweigh the budget, pull twigs from shrubs and decorate them with cranberry strands, popcorn strings and add a few lights if you can.

Adult Recent Sorrows

You may have had a sorrow, such as a financial loss, or in your heart may be a newly opened grave. Children weep and then return to the merriment of life with easy adaptability. Cannot we, too, do likewise? Can we not lighten our hearts with Christmas songs and Christmas stories?

Children like to make other children happy at Christmas time. One little girl that we know said, "Mother, must get my kitty something for Christmas."

Her mother replied, with a laugh, "Your kitty does not know the meaning of Christmas."

And the little girl replied, "No, but I do." The whole world must be anointed with the spirit of Christmas.

WATERMELON CANDY

Make a powder sugar icing your own way and divide in three parts. Color one part pink, one green, and let one part remain white. Mold by hand the green and put it into a long greased glass pan. On top of the green lay a thin layer of white icing or "dough." On top of the white, lay a thick layer of the pink. What is left of the white portion, mix with enough cocoa to make a brown color. Mold by hand the brown dough to represent seeds and stick the seeds here and there in the pink icing. Put into the refrigerator to harden. When serving, cut down in slices as thick as you desire. This makes a pretty Christmas candy. If each piece is wrapped in cellophane paper, the effect in a Christmas box will be striking. —Mrs. Jennie Mize.

Matthews And Denfeld

A highly esteemed Nebraskan, Francis Matthews, secretary of the navy, is having more than his share of trouble with the recalcitrant sea lion, Admiral Louis Denfeld. The latter lost his post as chief of naval operations as a result of a staunch rebellion against certain phases of the unification program, which he thought were unfair to the navy, destructive of its morale. It was very clear that if the unification program was to proceed, Admiral Denfeld had taken an untenable position. He was "agin" it. The only choice was the decision finally reached. At the same time, there was no desire to make a "goat" of him because of a sincere view and a long, distinguished, invaluable service. Recently, he was given the opportunity to take command of Atlantic operations, which he refused. He is reported to have indicated that he felt that in the circumstances that had developed, he felt he could not command the respect abroad in foreign ports. He has become quite a problem child to Secretary Matthews, seeking to preserve rank and opportunity for him. Frankly, the episode is depressing to many Americans.

A Changing Germany?

There may be some significance to the reported reaction of the press of west Germany under allied occupation to the sentence imposed upon former German Field Marshal Fritz von Manstein. A British military court dished out a sentence of eighteen years in prison for war crimes. Some of the west German press termed the sentence, "a shock" for the German public. It is the first instance where publicly any segment of the German people have criticized the work of the military courts, which may be indicative of a growing nationalism in the western zones.

Off To A Good Start

An estimated 1950 Nebraska wheat crop just short of 80 million bushels should come as no surprise to the people of this state. Rarely has the seed gone into the ground under more favorable conditions than last fall, with a wet September and abundant moisture for germination and early growth, coupled with an unusually mild, moderate fall. The fields germinated splendidly, and the wheat got a good root start. It now needs rain.

1950 MISSOURI BASIN PLANNING

BY J. E. LAWRENCE.

(This is the eighth of a series of articles on Missouri basin development.)

It is a breathtaking vista which is projected before the eyes of the millions in the cities and on the farms of the Missouri basin. Nature left much of the region without lakes, only shallow, winding streams slowly pushing through the great North American plains. Probably nothing has contributed more to the caution and conservatism of the Missouri basin states than the absence of silver lakes, fickleness of rainfall, resulting dread of drought, and finally the scarcity of friendly forests. That contributes unconsciously to the thinking of people in a hundred ways. In the heat of summer, they scan the skies for clouds to release raindrops which will save their crops. Over much of this Missouri basin, every generation of western settlement has lived in the shadow of a potential unkind nature.

Now it is proposed to store the waters of these streams in late fall, winter, and early spring—to conserve waste and flood waters—the latter spreading themselves out in seasons of torrential rains, or heavy runoffs from melting snows, to inflict millions of dollars of damage.

That is the essence of Missouri basin development—to conserve water so sorely needed in so many growing seasons—to utilize those waters for irrigation purposes—to extract cheap electricity from them—to curb unruly floods that take life and destroy property. This region long has been conscious of the conservation of natural resources—and it is becoming of greater importance the country over, from coast to coast. The states of the Missouri basin in a very large sense are America's chief breadbasket—heart of its wheat lands, its corn empire, foundation of much of its livestock industry. Because of later settlement, this is the region which still embraces the bulk of America's best grain producing soil.

But it has been losing invaluable black earth. Wind and rain, the forces of erosion, have been stripping it.

The engineers of the bureau of reclamation and corps of army engineers have done their job. Theirs basically is a construction job.

A few years ago, earlier in the 'forties, there was a very dry fall, with drought running up until late in February. Then the rains came, and they were abundant and well-spaced, and Nebraska harvested one of its best wheat crops. What happens in 1950 is ahead, not behind. But the prospect the country over suggests that the spectre of controls will loom larger, either voluntary or by government edict.

Longest Night; Stalin's Birthday

The longest night in the year in the North Temperate zone arrived Thursday. The day also marked the seventieth anniversary of Josef Stalin's birthday. This is not to suggest there is any connection between the two, but in a small world they bring mingled emotions to hundreds of millions of people.

At seventy, Stalin, more than ever, is a man of mystery. What are his thoughts, his plans? There have been innumerable rumors that the Russian leader was in enfeebled health, that he was dangerously ill, and yes, that he had died, all subsequently disclaimed. But the man, who led Russia to a high pinnacle of power in world affairs today, added enormously to its territory, and extended its influence, is getting old, with Thursday furnishing a reminder time may be running out on him. Death is one thing Stalin will not defeat.

A legendary figure, frequently assuming the outlines of fiction, Stalin violates every conception of the century to which he has contributed so much. On the basis of limited information, Americans can reach some conclusions: (a) he has maintained himself in power by the practice of ruthless brutality for a longer period of time than any man who ever lived; (b) he has made himself supreme, and his slightest wish, law, by improving the living standards of his people through the practice of absolute totalitarian methods; (c) he has combined amazing genius in ruling millions to wipe out every vestige of individual freedom and yet instill a measure of devotion rarely showered upon any man.

In the years he has governed Russia, he has rarely appeared publicly, and on less frequent occasions he has spoken publicly. He is in truth and fact, the man no one knows, not even the millions of his own people.

On this, his seventieth birthday, the thought comes, there is no basis for an honest book revealing the human being Josef Stalin is. There are no sources of material, properly documented, for such a book.

Years hence when the historian gathers his notes to begin his writing, we believe that he will say Stalin missed his great opportunity to attain an immortal place in the respect and affections of the world. He and his country were so near defeat; pulled themselves out of an abyss. And he and his country, joining hands with America, had the supreme opportunity to usher in the age of a stable, peaceful world. All of the gifts that poured in upon him on his seventieth birthday cannot offset the fact that Stalin himself brushed aside the greatest gift—a peaceful world.

These Public Servants

Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of New York, an outstanding Methodist churchman, sank his teeth into something last week. And when he speaks, usually people have very little difficulty in determining what he means: He made a rather grave, serious charge against newspaper columnists and radio commentators, insisting that they are guilty of deliberate presentations of half-truths and falsehoods. Well, that has been disturbing a lot of people recently. We do need a little faith in the honesty of public officials, and in the decent purposes of our own government. There have been instances recently where columnists and commentators have seemed to permit the hunger for sensation to get the upper hand of their better judgment. Fortunately that will take care of itself in all good time. It is not difficult to distinguish between those who look upon their privileges with a sense of responsibility, and others who merely let fly, regardless of how fantastic the rumors they put into circulation may be.

In planning and actual operation. Only the best of engineering skill and construction can make Missouri basin development acceptably efficient. Yet the undertaking itself calls for more than engineering. There must be an equally sound plan of administration. That is what is lacking both in the programs drawn up by the joint staffs of the bureau of reclamation and the army engineers, and the field forces of the department of agriculture. There is no plan publicly in existence yet to administer a vast chain of dams, reservoirs, power plants, irrigation works, and all of the other multiple purposes to be fulfilled in river basin development.

A plan for administration can come only through one of two developments—either through congressional action setting up an authority patterned along the lines of TVA—or, through local action, setting up a regional authority, staffed locally, deriving its authority from the people of the valley, independent of congress. A regional local authority must be granted power to hurdle state lines; to make final binding decisions on the use of water, the generation and distribution of electricity, and finally fulfillment of all other multiple purposes in the conservation of natural resources.

It is not a matter of engineering construction but a matter of administration when water shall be turned off or on. It is not a matter of engineering, but of administration how electricity shall be sold and distributed. Inasmuch that will happen after the dams are finished, the reservoirs filled, and the turbines are into operation, the matter of administrative policy will determine in great measure the lasting usefulness of what is being done, and what has been planned. Amortization of debt, ultimate repayment of vast sums to the treasury, cheapness or expensiveness of irrigation and of electricity will hinge upon administrative policy in Missouri basin development. In January, the inter-agency committee meets in Sioux City for continued discussion. Senator C. Petrus Peterson pointed out at the last conference that consideration of the problem of administration could not be delayed much longer. It is time to get down to the realities of basin planning if a sound, carefully-thought out program is to be presented to congress in lieu of a loosely-drawn fantastic dream. The concluding article of this series will appear Thursday.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

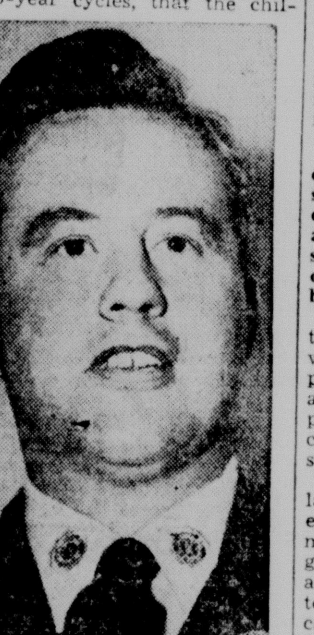

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Last year, American G. I.'s, spending Christmas in Germany, raised $247,000 to bring a brighter Christmas to the German children of the U. S. zone.

A G. I.'s pay is not munificent, and most of them were spending rather lonesome Christmas masses themselves compared with that at home. However, they contributed generously to the children of men who once had been their enemies.

This Christmas, the American Legion, led by farsighted Comdr. George Craig, has launched an appeal to all Americans to collect toys one day after Christmas for the children of Europe. Coming as it does from the veterans who fought the war, this represents one of the most significant moves in America.

The new Legion is fully aware of the fact that wars usually come in 20-year cycles, that the chil-

In Step With The Sower

BY ARCH DONOVAN

Sometimes cold, sometimes warm, the 400 foot pile of stone on which the Sower stands is one of many moods, but beautiful in all its moods. It is alive, changing as it is silhouetted in sunlight against the blue canopy of the sky; somber in twilight or storm. Of many moods, likewise, are those housed beneath the dome. They are anxious as elections near, excited by the stepped up tempo of legislative years and benevolent with Yuletide spirit.

In the rotunda stands a decorated, 18-foot Christmas tree, the gift of the Lincoln Junior Chamber of Commerce to the people of the state. It blends with the dignity of the great dome, decorated with symbols of Civic Virtues in the form of Angel figures.

Off the long corridors in the workshop offices, smaller trees abound. Decorated during lunch periods and after hours, they are warm, intimate expressions of good will.

While government is associated by many with spending, economy is the watchword of many state employees. Yule decorations reveal the trait.

In the Nurses Registry, all decorations on the tree are hand made, and a center of attraction. Colored metal caps collected from milk bottles were used in fashioning the bells, etc. Mrs. Jane Giebelhaus, Mrs. Frances Kendle and Miss LaVon Huwaldt were responsible for the trimming.

At the state normal school office a centerpiece on the board table carries out the Christmas motif. Designed by Miss Thelma Ullstrom, it consists of colored balls nesting in greenery with a tall, red candle in the center.

The multi-colored balls are gold balls covered with foil. They came from the bag of her brother, Frank Ullstrom of the state treasurer's office. Thelma insists that he—in conservative banker fashion—would be returned before the grass turns green in the spring.

Fey—a three letter word meaning fated or doomed to die.

It is familiar to all workers of crossword puzzles. Likewise, the meaning is easily determinable from a dictionary.

The erudite easterner, who journeyed to Nebraska to write for a national magazine on how the experiment of public power for the benefit of its citizens rather than for the benefit of stock market speculators in New York was doomed to failure, also used it in connection with the Loup River Public Power district at Columbus.

Thereby, he stirred local pride in Columbus to a point of re-prevent war is by building good will long in advance of crisis. To this end, the Legion is asking the nation to cooperate in collecting toys immediately after Christmas for shipment to the kids of Europe, where toys are scarce this year. A message from an American child is to be attached to each toy—which may start a train of friendships lasting for years.

Note—The toys will be distributed by CARE, the nonprofit organization which has machinery already set up in all Atlantic pact countries and some iron curtain countries.

Here is the inside story on how Capt. Arleigh A. Burke, head of the navy's "Operation 23," was passed up for promotion.

Actually the navy promotion board approved Burke for promotion to the rank of rear admiral, and Secretary of the Navy Matthews sent it to the White House.

However, Matthews talked to the president by phone later, at which time Truman said, in effect, "I see you have Burke's name on the list. Take it off."

So Secretary Matthews had the board reconvene and pass over Burke. Then the list was sent back to the White House. The promotions are on Truman's desk right now.

Note—Burke's "operation 23," the special navy propaganda task force, flouted regulations regarding unification and armed services co-operation.

New York's water shortage has caused government engineers to survey the water resources of the entire nation to see whether we are gradually drying up. The results are reassuring regarding the country in general, but not the big cities.

Fact is big cities are draining their reservoirs faster than the water flows in, chiefly because people are running their spigots and factories and operating their pumps more. Meanwhile 95 per cent of our water runs into the sea unused.

Only long-term solution is reclamation for the big cities of the east. New York City, for instance, must take a lesson from Los Angeles, which has stretched an aqueduct 200 miles to tap the water of the Colorado. Manhattan can do the same by piping water 80 miles from the Hudson above Poughkeepsie, at which point the Hudson is free from salt water.

Elsewhere, engineers are altering the map of the United States in their quest for water. They are exploring ways of changing the course of the mighty Columbia river, and a tributary will flow into parched Nevada and make the desert bloom. They are also building a water network to catch the melting snows from the High Sierras and run it 500 miles down

New Wealth For Nebraska: Scientists Seek New Crops And New Uses

DR. G. M. SEVERSON, right, explains the operation of a new distillation apparatus to Dean W. V. Lambert of the University of Nebraska college of agriculture. Dr. Severson, the chemistry department chairman, is a bio-chemist with long experience in industrial research. A recent reorganization made the department part of the agricultural experiment station. (U. of N. Photo.)

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of eight articles on the development of chemistry in Nebraska. More particularly the articles are concerned with the research contributions being made by the University of Nebraska, other government agencies, and by private concerns toward a sound chemical program in Nebraska which will be profitable to both the farmer and the manufacturer.)

Chemurgy is a glamorous word. Many persons, in public and private life, hold it aloft as a brand new gadget, which can cure whatever might ail Nebraska's agriculture, and build overnight a small-industry enterprise. Chemurgy is not new. Man has been processing for many centuries raw materials of the farm into things we can use—hides into leather, cotton and wool into clothing, and flax into linseed oil. These processes are chemurgy.

Nebraska is not a cure-all. Nebraska, in the foreseeable future, will continue to market most of its corn, wheat, hay and beef cattle into agricultural channels as the basis of its prosperity.

But chemurgy can be an important supplement to our prosperity in three ways. It can line our pockets with millions of dollars annually in additional income through (1) the planting and harvesting of new crops which will have the added advantage of diversifying our farming system; (2) giving Nebraska communities new industry to stabilize the ups and downs of farm income and farm labor demands; and (3) utilizing apparent surpluses and waste materials of present crops.

The new concept of industrial utilization of farm products was born, along with the word chemurgy, back in the 1930's. Those were the days, most Nebraskans vividly recall, when ruinously low prices for farm commodities later joined forces with the choking dust, drifting sand and searing heat of an unprecedented drought. Thousands of Nebraska families packed up and left the farm.

It was in this atmosphere that modern chemurgy came into being. Nebraskans saw in it a way to remedy apparent surplus of wheat and corn and other crops; a way to raise farm commodity prices by creating more markets; and a way to build up a small-industry enterprise which would help the state balance an unstable agricultural economy.

During the late 1930's, the University of Nebraska, and some private agencies, began investigations of chemurgic crops and processes. In May, 1941, this work was given formal status when the state legislature passed LB 462 creating a chemurgy project under the direction of the board of regents. Approximately $30,000 was appropriated for its operation during the 1941-43 biennium.

It was Chancellor R. G. Gustavson's belief, expressed when he came to the university in 1946, that the department, in the interests of economical operation of the university, should be composed of a small staff of skilled experts—chemists, engineers, economists and agronomists—which would plan a well-rounded research program. The work would be done, not in a self-contained department, but through teamwork involving the use of skilled scientists in all departments of the university. The cooperative effort, he believed, should go even further and embrace co-operative research between the university, the U. S. department of agriculture's huge regional laboratories, and the research work of private concerns.

Out of this "team effort," Dr. Gustavson believed, would come two types of research results: (1) basic information which would eventually contribute to chemurgy; and (2) applied information which would be immediately useful to the farmer and industry. Finally, Dr. Gustavson believed that the chemurgy department should be primarily responsible for doing a good job of research. The developing of results of research and the promotion of interest in chemurgy should be left to private enterprise and in some instances other agencies of state government.

Today the chemurgy staff is attacking each proposal for chemurgic industry from chemical, engineering, economic and agronomic angles, for all four must be sound if the industry is to prosper.

The staff is headed by Dr. M. Severson, a bio-chemist with wide experience in academic and private research. Others are Dr. Carl Claassen, agronomist; R. E. Woodward, engineer; Walter Hammond, economist; Albert Hoffman, assistant agronomist; two technical assistants, Earl Kemper and Verne Young; and Mildred Palsley, secretary. The part-time (summer) staff members are Dr. Carl Georgi, professor of bacteriology, and Dr. James Weber, chemical engineer. The department operates on a $36,000 yearly budget.

A score of other university scientists are co-operating on projects. A close relationship has been established with the U.S.D.A. regional laboratories, with other universities, with private laboratories, with the Nebraska resources division and other state agencies.

The teamwork is paying off.

(Next week: The farmer's stake in Nebraska's chemurgy program and the development of new crops he can profitably raise.)

Pitching Horseshoes

By BILLY ROSE

My less comatose students will remember that at the last session of this class I told them the story of Ronowitz, the East Side storekeeper, who saved a gangster's life by bundling him up in a mattress and hiding him in a cellar. This Volstead Valentine, I reported, had been passed on to me by a reformed bootlegger who is currently the vice president of a big whiskey company.

The night the yarn appeared in print I happened to meet the distiller at Dinty Moore's restaurant. "Thanks for the story," I said. "By the way, if I promise not to print it, will you tell me the name of the hoodlum who hid under the mattress?"

The whiskey man grinned. "There's no reason why you shouldn't print it," he said. "His name was Bonaparte—Napoleon Bonaparte."

"You're joking."

"If I am, the joke's on you. The story was a switch on a Yiddish folk tale my Pop told me when I was a kid."

"How about telling me the original?"

"Be glad to," said the ex-hootch hustler....

One day when the French army was nearing Moscow, a detachment of Russian cavalry broke through the flank of the main body of troops and created so much panic behind the lines that even Napoleon had to run for it. With the Cossacks hot on his elevator heels, he fled to a Jewish village and knocked on the door of the local tailor.

"Hide me," he begged.

Not knowing the emperor from a hole in the Steppes, the tailor hid him under a mattress, and a few minutes later the Russians arrived and began searching the house. When they got to the mat-

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—The federal power commission is going to have to make a decision shortly after the first of the year that is bound to get snarled up in the politics of 1950. Directly involved is the administration's favorite issue in the west—public power.

By a unanimous decision, including the vote of President Truman's good friend, Mon Wallgren, the power commission awarded to the Pacific Gas & Electric company a key power site in California's Central valley. This is the Helm's creek and North Fork site in the King's river basin which, according to P. G. & E. estimates filed with the commission, will cost $50,000,000 to develop.

This development by P. G. & E. with its dominating position on the west coast will cut directly across the irrigation-power development of the bureau of reclamation of the department of interior in California's great Central valley. Vast sums have already been spent by the bureau and many more millions are to go into the project.

That is why the department of interior has filed an urgent application for a rehearing by the power commission. The application lists 62 specific objections to the commission order.

The department's belief, as expressed in the application, is that the commission was not aware of the significance of its decision in relation to the far-flung Central valley project and the stake of the government in it. Reconsideration will convince the commissioners that they should reverse themselves.

The department also has filed a petition asking that the bureau of reclamation be granted the right formally to intervene in the case. Although the bureau participated in the proceedings leading up to the decision, no request was made for intervention and this, according to FPC officials, is likely to prejudice the commission against the department.

The senate last summer refused to confirm Leland Olds who was nominated by President Truman for a third term on the commission. He was attacked by Sena-

Lady Lion Tamer Killed By Animal; Rescue Try Fails

THOUSAND OAKS, Cal.—(INS)—Despite a valiant effort by her 18-year-old son, Michael, to save her, famed English lion tamer Mrs. Mary Kovar Schaeffer, 48, was killed by a lion she was training.

The tragedy occurred yesterday at a southern California training farm and was witnessed by Mrs. Schaeffer's two other children, May, 15, and Sandra, 3.

The animal, a 3-year-old male, had been let into the practice arena from his cage. A few moments after Mrs. Schaeffer entered the arena the lion leaped at her, grabbing her by the throat. She died almost instantly.

While the two younger children stood by in horror, Michael leaped into the cage, picked up his mother's whip and chair and attempted to beat off the animal.

Suddenly the lion turned on the

Thrush Resigns Post With Farm Bureau Insurance

Orval Thrush has resigned his position as manager of the Farm Bureau Insurance company of Nebraska, Charles Marshall, Farm Bureau president, announced Wednesday.

Marshall said Thrush will take a similar position with the Kansas Farm Bureau Insurance company.

Stating that the resignation is a "loss we regret very much," Marshall said, "Still, we do not feel that we can stand in the way of what may be considered a much deserved promotion."

Thrush replaces Walter E. Acker of the Kansas company. He came to Lincoln in February, 1948, as manager when the Farm Bureau Insurance Company of Nebraska was founded. He built the organization to approximately 6,000 policyholders in 18 months. His management policies are credited with making substantial premium rate reductions by the company this fall.

The resignation is effective Jan. 1. Marshall said that it is hoped that Thrush's successor can be announced before that date.

Mr. and Mrs. Thrush and their two sons will make their home in Manhattan, Kas., headquarters of the Kansas company.

John McCormick, York City, County Engineer, Is Dead

YORK, Neb.—(AP)—John A. McCormick, 55, city and county engineer, died Tuesday of a heart ailment. He suffered an attack at his home Friday night.

A life long resident of York and York county, McCormick had planned and supervised a number of public buildings erected in the last 10 years. Surviving are his mother and four sisters.

Settlement Made In Damage Suits West O Accident

Four separate personal injury and damage lawsuits which had been filed against Donald W. Reed, 19, who was involved in the six-car accident on West O Nov. 18, 1948, which took the lives of two University of Nebraska students, were settled out of court Tuesday.

Amounts of settlements were not disclosed. The suits had been pending since last spring.

First action was filed by Carl Bamesberger, administrator of the estate of his son, Robert K., who was killed in the accident. He asked $10,800. Melvin D. Engelbart was the other student killed.

Other suits were filed by: Har- ris Esler, $13,226; Arnold E. Nie-veen, $15,556; and Arthur F. Shotkosi, $40,000. Shotkosi and Nieveen also were students. All three charged that Reed's car, the last of the six to become involved, struck them as they were standing on the pavement.

The federal government's telephone bill for calls in the city of Washington alone amounts to more than $3,500,000 a year.

Stalin's Stars Are Favorable For U.S.S.R.

... Top Astrologers Say

By ED CREAGH.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Some of America's top astrologers took a 70th birthday look at Joe Stalin's stars today, and told the western world:

Watch your step.
Or, as they say in Siberia, watch your steppe.

It seems that the sun and the planet Mercury are in the sign of Sagittarius, among other heavenly goings on, and Uncle Joe's red star was never brighter—for the first part of 1950, at least.

(Sagittarius, by the way, is the archer. No connection, however, with Cupid.)

Personality Sketch.

Hellene Paul, "confidential adviser to executives," says Stalin's stars show him to be "humble when it suits his purpose, very proud and very dictatorial by nature."

"Stalin," she says, "is shrewd, keen, suspicious, sarcastic, skeptical, ambitious and extremely lucky."

"He will be more successful in 1950 than in 1949. He is going to get more territory. He will get more co-operation, especially from the older countries. And isn't China about the oldest country that there is?"

"Stalin In Trouble."

Lynn Wells, another New York astrologer, continued, however, that Stalin is in trouble.

Since 1944 there has been a chain of transitory disturbances from Uranus, Stalin undoubtedly made mistakes of judgment from 1944 to 1948 and mistakes of action in 1948 and 1949.

The full effects have not yet revealed themselves, but Stalin has overreached himself somewhere.

Then the rest of the world can stop fretting?

"By no means," said Lynn Wells. "This setback applies to Stalin personally—but not to Russia."

Christmas Party Slated Thursday At VA Hospital

Highlight of Christmas week festivities for patients at the Veterans hospital will be the annual party Thursday at 7 p. m. in the auditorium. The party is sponsored jointly by service organizations in this area and their auxiliaries and the VA volunteer service committee.

Greetings will be extended by Dr. Harry Scott, hospital manager and Chaplain T. R. Jones will be master of ceremonies. Other speakers include Dr. J. S. Walsh, chief of professional services; H. E. Miller, chief of special services and Grace Darby, recreational director.

Following the program gifts will be distributed in the wards by the service organizations.

Carolers have been making rounds of the hospital during the week including: Shriners, Greig chorus, Barbershop Quartet and the University Singers.

The hospital has been decorated by the Red Cross entertainment committee.

Christmas eve and Christmas night the hospital is offering special religious films for patients in addition to holiday music.

The week long celebration will be climaxed Sunday with a traditional yuletide dinner featuring turkey and hot mince pie.

Hawthorne Cubs Make Own Tree Decorations

Back to grandfather's and great-grandfather's day went members of Den 4, Pack 35 of the Cub Scouts at Hawthorne school, when they accepted responsibility for decorating the Christmas tree.

The busy Cubs frowned upon spending their money for purchasing brightly colored baubles and tinsel for decorative purposes. Instead, as their forefathers had done before them, they made their own. Only the lights on the tree were not the handiwork of the Cubs.

The youths were aided with plans and advice furnished by the Cub Mother Mrs. Arline Salter, Cubmaster J. L. Brown and the den chief, Boy Scout Donald Marks.

The tree, a jack pine selected by the Cubs, is beautifully proportioned and with its decorations is the prize of the various members of scouting activities as well as the school.

The Cub Scouts are sponsored by the P.T.A. of Hawthorne school.

Effective Use Of Crop Land Urged By PMA

... At National Meet

Effective use of land taken out of allotment crops in adjusting farm production to the needs of the country and at the same time to strengthen the productivity of our farms is the challenge before the farmers of Nebraska, according to Frank W. Reed, chairman of the state PMA committee.

Reed returned recently from the national PMA conference held at Memphis, Tenn. Attending this conference with him were Ralph H. Hanks and Alvie L. Johnson, also members of the state PMA committee.

Committeemen from all the other states and from Puerto Rico and Hawaii were at the conference.

More efficient and more effective means of administering Production and Marketing Administration programs in the face of shifts in agricultural production received chief emphasis at the conference, the chairman reported.

Growing Problem.

Among the serious problems facing farmers in this country today, the chairman said, is what to do with the land taken out of allotment crops. Using this land to grow another cash crop usually will result only in building up excessive supplies of that commodity with the almost certain result of price breaks.

According to Reed, committeemen at the conference stressed that most of this land must be seeded to grass and legumes. But that solution, he explained, led directly to the problem of seed. It was agreed that all possible effort must be directed to grass and legume seed production in 1950.

Reed urges farmers in Nebraska to put grass and legume seed production high on the list in their farm plans for 1950.

"More seed is needed and the only way we can get it is for farmers to produce it," Reed said.

Bumper Winter Wheat Production Forecast

79,980,000 Bu. Predicted For Nebraska
Next Year: Fifth Largest Crop On Record

(By the Associated Press)

A bumper winter wheat crop was forecast for Nebraska in 1950.

The department of agriculture in its first prediction of the 1950 crop estimated that Nebraska would produce a total of 79,980,000 bushels of wheat in 1950.

If the prediction holds true this would be the fifth largest on record.

It would be far and away above the 1949 crop which was reported Monday as 53,316,000 bushels, product of a rather poor year. It would be smaller, however than the 1948 crop of 81,938,000 bushels.

3,999,000 Acreage.

The forecast estimated that 3,999,000 acres would produce wheat next year. This compares to 3,741,000 acres seeded in 1949 and 3,997,000 seeded in 1948.

Over a 10 year period from 1938 to 1947 Nebraska planted an average of 3,224,000 acres of wheat for an average production of 57,806,000 bushels.

Top production years were 1946 when the crop was 89,723,000 bushels and 1947 when the crop was 89,292,000 bushels. In 1945 the crop was 81,558,000 bushels.

Moisture Needed.

The new prediction reflected a slightly unfavorable fall condition reported Tuesday by the state-federal bureau of agricultural statistics. The bureau said that a good rain throughout the state would help winter wheat considerably.

The forecast on 1950's rye crop showed an indicated acreage of 339,000 acres or 90 per cent of normal.

The 1949 rye acreage was listed at 180,000 acres with a yield of 8.5 bushels and a production of 1,606,000 bushels.

Farmer In Middle Of Scrap

Ag Groups, Secretary Of Agriculture Split United Front Wide Open

WASHINGTON (AP)—The farmer-anxious over prices and crop adjustment problems—today finds himself caught in the middle of a bitter struggle.

The conflict is between top-ranking government officials and powerful farm organizations, and involves two issues: (1) The future government farm program, and (2) the question of who speaks for the farmer.

On the one side is Secretary of Agriculture Brannan, with strong administration support, and on the other are such farm organizations as the American Farm Bureau Federation and the National Grange. Only one major farm organization—the National Farmers' Union—is backing the secretary. A fourth—the National Council of Farmer Co-operators — is expected to take sides against him at its January convention.

The battle may have far-reaching consequences for agriculture, because of the possibility that it may interfere with future congressional farm legislation. Caught in the middle along with farmers is congress. Naturally anxious to pass legislation desired by farmers, the lawmakers will be at a loss as to which side to listen to—Brannan or the farm organizations which oppose him.

A basic difference between the secretary and his foes is the so-called Brannan farm program. In general, the Brannan plan would support farm prices at higher levels than would groups that oppose him. But, the plan would permit lower consumer prices for perishables than would the farm groups.

The secretary would use government payments to achieve the dual and apparent conflicting goals of high farm returns and low food prices. Opposing farm groups argue that the farmer is entitled to his full return at the market place.

Both the Farm Bureau Federation and the National Grange adopted strong resolutions against the Brannan plan at recent conventions.

Farmers' Spokesmen. Perhaps as important as differences over farm policies in the struggle is the question of who has the right to speak for farmers on problems involving their welfare.

Farm bureau officials have charged that the administration is attempting to set up the agriculture department's farmer-commission system as a competitor organization to the private farm organizations. This system was established in the early 1930s to help administer farm programs.

At the moment, the Brannan foes appear to have the better of the situation. In power is a congress which at its last session turned thumbs down on the Brannan plan and passed legislation more in line with views of his opponents.

tailor, a sergeant jabbed his bayonet through the padding, slitting Napoleon's coat up the back, but missing his imperial hide.

"Tailor," said the little general when the Russians were gone, "you have saved the life of the emperor and he is grateful. Ask for the three things you want most, and when my troops arrive your wishes shall be granted."

That afternoon, when the French recaptured the village, Bonaparte asked the tailor to name his first wish.

"For two years," said the villager, "The roof of my house has been leaking."

"A petty request to make of an emperor. Nevertheless, you shall have a new roof. What is your second wish?"

"Motte, the tailor in the next village, says he is moving here. This is a small town, and—"

"Motte shall not compete with you," said Napoleon. "What is your final request?"

"Well," said the tailor hesitatingly, "all my life I've wondered whether kings and emperors have the same feelings as other human beings. When the soldier was standing over you with the bayonet, how did it feel under the mattress?"

"You repay my kindness with impertinence," said Bonaparte. "Tomorrow morning you shall be shot."

At sunrise, the tailor was tied to a tree and a squad of soldiers leveled their muskets at him. The lieutenant in charge studied his watch and finally lifted his hand and began to count.

"Un—"

The muskets were cocked.

"Deux—"

The soldiers took aim.

But before the lieutenant could say "trois," one of Napoleon's generals rode into the clearing and shouted to the men to lower their weapons.

"The Emperor begs your pardon," he told the tailor, "and asks me to give you this letter."

"Dear Tailor," the letter read, "Now you know how I felt when I was under the mattress."

MERRY-GO-ROUND

California's water-starved San Joaquin valley. Here farmers have sunk their wells so deep they have reached "geological waters"—the melted ice of the glacial age.

Engineers are even blasting a tunnel 13 miles through the continental divide to catch water flowing to the Pacific and reverse its course to the Atlantic, irrigating the dry farm lands of Ft. Collins and Loveland, Colo., on the way.

Such Paul Bunyan planning is old stuff to the west. Because of increased consumption, many eastern cities will find it necessary to seek new, maybe faraway water sources. Engineers even expect the east to begin large-scale irrigation.

The cities with the worst water problem are those that would be expected to have the least—cities built along the rivers. This is because of contamination.

Worse than sewage, is chemical wastes from industrial plants. Running water tends to purify sewage, but nothing can be done to make some chemicals safe to drink. Yet industrial plants line the banks of the Mississippi, Ohio, Delaware, Potomac and other rivers, dumping chemicals into the water for the people of Pittsburgh, Wheeling, Louisville, St.

Louis, Philadelphia and Washington to drink.

Another problem along the sea coast is seawater which seeps into the underground supply. This has happened at both Los Angeles and Miami, and is also threatening Brooklyn where the water supply is now below sea level.

New York state strictly regulates Brooklyn's pumping and requires plants to pour used water back into the ground. But because of New York's growing water famine, these pumping restrictions may be lifted, which will put Brooklyn's water supply in more serious danger of salt-water seepage.

Note—One solution suggested for the water shortage is a series of plants converting seawater into drinking water. Some reclamation officials are privately boosting this plan on Capitol Hill, but geologists claim it will be more expensive than piping water from fresh water reclamation projects.

months exceeded the previous yearly record by 9,816 KWH.

It's Col. C. J. Sanders of the state safety patrol now.

At meetings of the international police organization, of which he is a regional director, it has long been a joke that he as a captain only had the rank of a district, not a state. Genial Carl has a reputation among his fellow officers in other states of always being a ring leader in any jokes played upon his fellow delegates at conventions.

To retaliate, the colonels commanding other state patrols would walk ahead. Captains and others of minor rank, they informed him, always walk in the rear out of courtesy to their superiors.

Col. Arthur M. Thurston, superintendent of the Indiana patrol, took pity on his co-worker from Nebraska, enlisted the aid of Col. Guthrie F. Crowe of the Kentucky patrol and told him if Nebraska would not give the captain a suitable rank they would have to get it for him.

They jointly appealed to the governor of Kentucky. Their pleas were heeded and Capt. Sanders is now a full-fledged "Kentucky" colonel with a (framed) commission to prove it. The honor adds Capt. Sanders' name to a list of notable and illustrious Americans.

for Robert Kerr of Oklahoma and Senator Edwin Johnson of Colorado for radical statements made in writing he had done more than 20 years ago.

Thoroughly familiar with the intricacies of commission procedure, Olds frequently took the lead in three-to-two decisions favoring public power development. He was often joined by commissioner Thomas C. Buchanan, a Truman appointee whose nomination was long held up by the senate, and by veteran commissioner Claude L. Draper, a republican named to the FPC by Herbert Hoover in 1930.

Truman did everything in his power to get Olds confirmed, but in vain. When the senate turned down his first choice, he sent up Wallgren's name for the vacancy. Rejected previously by the senate for the post of chairman of the national security resources board on the ground that he did not have sufficient experience to fill that important office, Wallgren was quickly confirmed for the commission job.

He has had only a limited experience, as governor of the state of Washington, with power development. The pervasive private power lobby here in the capital will certainly woo the genial Wallgren who was listed in a senate investigation two years ago as a recipient of favors from Howard Hughes, the airplane manufacturer.

Whether the commission rejects the interior's plea for another hearing or grants it, the decision is round to get into politics. Representative Helen Gahagan Douglas is going to challenge Senator Sheridan Downey in California's democratic primary next June. It will be one of the warmest and most picturesque races in the country.

Mrs. Douglas will accuse Downey of trying to sabotage public power and irrigation in California because of his long and bitter campaign against bureau of reclamation officials over their conduct of the central valley project. On the other hand, Downey can point to the fact that he was

Flying Farmers Plan Flight To Florida And Cuba

BROKEN BOW, Neb. (AP)—Nebraska's Flying Farmers expect to wing their way beyond the reach of Nebraska's blizzards next month.

They plan to fly to Florida and Cuba Jan. 9 to 15.

Plans were made at a meeting here of the board of directors of the Nebraska Flying Farmers. Flyers will gather at Wichita, Kas., will stop at TVA dams and other historic points and take in the Miami air races and the National Stockgrowers convention in Miami.

The Nebraska group's annual convention was set for April 21 and 22 but the site was not chosen. Edgar Leafdale of Potter is president.

one of the handful of senators voting to confirm Olds.

Attention will increasingly concentrate on the commission as the private power companies and their powerful lobby seek to reverse the trend of recent years. The commission soon will be faced by another ticklish decision, this time in North Carolina where the Virginia Power & Electric Co. is seeking to build a dam and hydroelectric plant at Roanoke rapids on the Roanoke river. This site is part of an area which congress has approved for development by the army engineers, although no money has yet been made available. Hearings have been held and a trial examiner's report must be filed before the commission decides.

At all of those whistle stops in '48 President Truman boomed public power. But the power commission can by its decisions cut directly across the Truman program.

Power Disrupted In West Nebraska As Boiler Control Fails

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP)—The automatic control on the steam boiler at the Consumer Public Power district power plant in Scottsbluff failed Tuesday night and shut off power in all towns with Consumer power in the North Platte river valley, W. H. Grant, Scottsbluff, western system manager, reported.

Cause of the trouble was not immediately discovered. Grant said. The power went off at about 6:40 p. m. and was restored at about 7:35 p. m.

The power is produced by a steamboiler, and the control shut off the turbine which generates the power, Grant explained.

Towns directly affected were Scottsbluff, Minatare, Melbeta and McGrew. It was reported that the power also went off at Bridgeport, Sidney, Oshkosh and Broadwater.

'Jesus Influences All Interests In Christian World'

"All phases of human interest in the Christian world have been colored by the teachings of Jesus," Dr. Harold Sandall, pastor of Grace Methodist church told the Hiram club Wednesday noon at the Y.W.C.A.

"Significance of Jesus" from the standpoint of prophetic fulfillment, His influence on history and the personal meaning of Him in one's life.

"Thoughtful men are of the opinion that we must come to terms with His teachings," Dr. Sandall said. "The personal meaning of Him in our lives is most real to us as individuals in this season of the celebration of the birth of Christ."

Dr. Sandall spoke on the

Soviets Won't Even Discuss Japanese Repatriation

MacArthur Reports 374,041 Died In Prison Camps

TOKYO—(AP)—Russia angrily stalked out of the allied four-power council for Japan today rather than discuss Soviet failure to complete repatriation of Japanese war prisoners.

By the walkout, the eight-man Russian delegation avoided hearing Gen. MacArthur's conclusion that 374,041 Japanese have died in Soviet prison camps from brutal treatment.

The dramatic Russian exit climaxed a bitter argument over council procedure. Russia's Lt. Gen. Kuzma Derevyanko argued the four-power group—the United States, Britain, Russia and China—had no business discussing repatriation. American Chairman William J. Sebald overruled him.

White with anger, the stocky, bull-necked Russian general stalked out. His delegation followed him.

Long a Sore Point.

Repatriation has long been a sore point of the occupation. Russia has returned some 1,300,000 Japanese prisoners in four years. American and Japanese authorities have been pressing for the return of more than 300,000 others. A supreme commander, MacArthur himself has roundly scored the Soviet attitude.

The Russians sent 94,000 home last summer and announced that was all except 10,000 "war criminals" who would not be returned. The U. S. placed the matter on the council agenda at the request of the Japanese government, which has been besieged by relatives of still-missing soldiers.

Croc Which Swallowed A Bottle Is Center Of Attraction At Ohio Zoo

CINCINNATI—(AP)—Marc, a 600-pound Nile crocodile, is the center of attraction at the Cincinnati zoo these days and all because of a bottle.

Two weeks ago someone tossed a bottle into Marc's pool. Marc grabbed it and zoo superintendent Charles White couldn't get it away from him.

The next morning the bottle was missing and White says it couldn't have gone down the drain, so he surmised Marc had swallowed it.

Now Marc has lost his appetite and zoo attendants are worried about him.

Queen Waltzes With Livered Footman At Annual Yule Ball

LONDON—(AP)—The queen danced with the footman and the princess danced with the clock-winder last night in Buckingham Palace's annual household Christmas party.

The palace staff gave the traditional party. Queen Elizabeth, in diamond tiara and flowing green gown, waltzed with the liveried footman. Princess Margaret, sleek in rose and pink, swirled over the glassy floor with the man in charge of the palace's famous collection of French gilt clocks.

King George, still recuperating slowly from a long-suffered leg ailment, sat on the sidelines until shortly before midnight. Then he retired.

Kearney's Election On City Manager Plan Is Postponed

KEARNEY, Neb.—(AP)—The special election on the city manager form of government has been set back from Jan. 31 to Feb. 14.

The city council made the decision at a meeting Monday night, after deciding approximately a month previous on the Jan. 31 date. Councilmen avowing the move said they thought the process would be unduly rushed if the Jan. 31 date were retained. If approved, the plan cannot now go into effect until April, 1951. Using the Jan. 31 election date, the new form of government could have gone into effect in April, 1950, if approved.

Chamber Women To Donate Presents For 20 Foster Children

The women's division of the chamber of commerce will donate Christmas gifts to 20 Lincoln children living in foster homes. Names of youngsters were obtained from the office of the Foster Care unit and will be distributed from that office.

This has been an annual project of the civic activities committee under supervision of Mrs. Doris Pie-ee and Miss Mildred Keith. As in the past the youngsters have indicated their wishes for Christmas gifts and gifts from the group will answer the particular wish of each child.

Car Leaps 75 Feet; Lad Survives Crash

FAIRBURY, Neb. — It takes more than a 75-foot leap through mid-air to down Bob Carmichael. Early Sunday morning Carmichael's car went out of control, apparently from a front tire blow-out, and careened some 275 feet including a 75-foot plunge over a 20-foot bank, finally coming to rest in McNish park.

The car ricocheted off two trees and turned over, pinning Carmichael under the body. Police believed it was a half-hour later when a passing motorist saw the wreckage and called them.

Taken to the Fairbury clinic, Carmichael was found to have suffered a broken collar bone and numerous bruises. His car was completely demolished.

Secretary Johnson Won't Quit
Services Boss Says He'll Stay On Job; Criticism Expected

WASHINGTON—(INS) — Defense Secretary Johnson laid at rest rumors today that he might resign from President Truman's cabinet. He said: "Definitely not."

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the house armed services committee bluntly asked the defense chief whether there was any truth to the rumors.

Johnson said there was not and added:

"I intend to stay on the job. I have no intention of resigning." Johnson has been close to the president since he succeeded the late Secretary James V. Forrestal. His vigor in promoting unification and economy in the armed services has brought dissatisfaction in certain circles, but there has been nothing to indicate dissension between the two.

Committee Criticism. Johnson, however, may face a sharp rebuke from Vinson's committee when it hands down its report on the unification row between the navy and the air force.

An influential committee member predicted that the group will censure both Johnson and Navy Secretary Matthews for removing Adm. Louis E. Denfeld as naval chief of operations.

The committee will also hand down, shortly after congress convenes Jan. 3, its report on the controversy over the air force's giant B-36 bomber.

3 Children Die In Fire
Parents, 5 Others Flee

WISCONSIN RAPIDS, Wis. — (AP) — Three children died last night in a flash fire, while five brothers and sisters and their parents escaped as their rural home was leveled.

The dead, all children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sonheim, were Nancy, 7 months, Gary, 2, and Robert, 14.

Kenneth, 9, was overcome by smoke and hospitalized here. Assistant Fire Chief Earl Kess said the blaze apparently broke out when some of the children were in the basement late at night piling firewood. They bumped over a can of lacquer. For some reason they started scraping its contents into a lighted stove. Flames flared up and spread swiftly through the house.

The parents frantically began herding the children from the structure. Robert ran upstairs to get Gary, trapped in a bedroom, but was trapped in the flames himself and both perished.

Dog Tags 'Glamorized'

LAS VEGAS — (AP) — Next year's dog tags in Las Vegas will be in the shape of fire hydrants, for males, and hearts, for females. Dog Catcher Bill Burke says he hopes, by "glamorizing" the licenses, to triple this year's sale of 1,300 tags.

DuBois Auto Accident Claims Second Life

State '49 Road Death Toll At 246

Pawnee City Vehicle Struck Banister And Hurdled Embankment

PAWNEE CITY, Neb.—(AP)—An auto accident near DuBois, Neb., Sunday claimed its second victim Tuesday night.

Don Hill, 36, of Pawnee City, died in a hospital here to become Nebraska's 246th traffic victim of the year.

The earlier victim of the same accident was Rex Manley, 26, of Pawnee City. The car in which they were riding struck a bridge banister, plunged into an embankment and rolled over several times, according to Sheriff Gene Parker.

One Still Hospitalized. Of three other persons injured in the crash, only one, Mrs. Rex Manley, remained hospitalized today. Mrs. Don Hill, who suffered a fractured left shoulder and Mrs. Dale Dodson of Pawnee City, whose injuries were minor, were released from the hospital. Hill is survived by his widow.

Bosses' Wages Raised By Act, Employers Told

OMAHA — (AP) — A regional administrator of the wage-hour administration reminded employers yesterday that the Fair Labor Standards act has raised the props under the wages of "bosses."

Walter H. King of Kansas City told a chamber of commerce meeting that the law raises the minimum for executive employees from $30 a week to $55.

An executive, under the provisions of the law, is one who supervises two or more full-time employees, has the right to hire and fire and doesn't spend more than 20 per cent of his time otherwise than being a boss.

Explains Provisions. King said the recent amendments to the act greatly strengthen the protective provision for children as well as raise the minimum wage from 40 to 75 cents an hour.

He emphasized that, beginning Jan. 25, the amended law will directly prohibit the employment of children under 16 in most jobs in interstate commerce or the production of goods for commerce.

It will also directly prohibit the employment of minors under 18 in hazardous occupations, such as driving a truck or operating an elevator.

LIGHTS WERE TURNED ON Monday night for the first time since World War II for Crete's living Christmas tree, believed to be the first in the U. S. Shown with the tree is Mrs. B. G. Miller of Crete who, with the aid of 300 school children, planted the tree 25 years ago. Crete's chamber of commerce is seeking recognition from President Truman that the tree be declared the first of its kind in the country. The tree is located next to the city hall.

Miller Wants Japs To Share More In Costs Of Occupation

SCOTTSDALE, Neb.—(AP)—Rep. A. L. Miller (R-Neb.) would like to see Japan pay more of its occupation costs.

He told a Lion's club luncheon here yesterday: "We are doing too much for them. They have balanced their budget and have a surplus this year of 150,000,000,000 yen. Perhaps we need some of their brains to balance our own budget."

Scotia Rural Fire District Is Urged

(Special to The Star) SCOTIA, Neb.—G. E. Ekstrand, deputy fire marshal, at a community meeting here, recommended that a rural fire district be formed.

Ruling Made On Blanket School Tax

... By Attorney General

The attorney general's office Tuesday issued an opinion interpreting the blanket school tax law passed by the last legislature.

The opinion was requested by Douglas County Attorney James Fitzgerald.

Object of the law was to make sure that all property in Nebraska would pay at least some school tax.

There were districts, the legislature was told, which had levied no school tax for years, because they had too few pupils to maintain a school.

The law provided that all rural elementary school districts should be subject to a blanket county tax not to exceed four mills.

Revenue from the tax would be distributed to the districts maintaining schools according to a formula set up in the act. But districts having no school and no pupils to send elsewhere to school would receive nothing.

The attorney general held:

1. The term "elementary school districts" (those subject to the tax) means class 1 districts.

2. School districts of other classes (city, town and high school districts) if under contract with class 1 districts to teach five or more pupils are entitled to share in the tax, but are not subject to the levy.

The blanket mill tax is independent of other levies authorized by law, and does not come within mill limits set up by law.

Nebraska Deaths

TOM FOWLER. FREDMONT—Funeral services for Tom Fowler, one-time Dodge county treasurer, were held Wednesday afternoon. He died Saturday at Richmond, Calif. Prominent in church work, he had served as an elder of the United Presbyterian church in North Bend and the Presbyterian church in Fremont. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Mary Warrenburg, Richmond, and Marjory, Sacramento, and a son, Richard, Los Angeles.

GUY MORIARTY. GRAND ISLAND—Guy Moriarty, 68, Grand Island resident for 25 years, died Thursday at a local hospital after an illness of several months. Surviving are three daughters, one brother, Burt Moriarty, of Kearney; and three sisters, Mrs. Ira Plummer of Grand Island, Mrs. Harold Wagner of Omaha and Mrs. Jack Fountain of Clarksville, Ore.

Lithuanian Ballet Master Works In Omaha Meat Cooler

... D.P. Gives Up Profession To Repay Sponsors

OMAHA — (AP) — The grace and skill that made Eugene Bandzevicius ballet master of the Lithuanian state troupe aren't doing him much good these days.

The 41-year-old D. P. is working as an unskilled laborer in the meat cooler of a south Omaha packing plant.

It was the only job open to him when Bandzevicius arrived in Omaha last October.

The work, he fears, may end his career in ballet.

And the bitter cold of the cooler is "bad for the leg muscles of a dancer," says Bandzevicius.

Under the best of conditions he says "there are only eight years left to me as an active dancer. After that the ballet will be in my head, but not in my body."

Determined To Stay.

Through an interpreter he explained that he doubtless could find work in his own profession in Chicago and New York, where other Lithuanian dancers have gravitated, but he is determined to stay in Omaha until he has repaid those who sponsored his trip to the United States.

Bandzevicius was one of the first solo dancers in the Lithuanian state ballet which was established in 1925. The dancers fled to Germany when the Russians overran their country, and those who survived the war eventually gathered at Augsburg in the American zone of Germany.

Paid In Potatoes. There, at the dancers' request, Bandzevicius formed a ballet troupe "to help us show the world the former majesty of the Lithuanian ballet." His dancers, asked no money—only food. He paid them partly in potatoes. The troupe won acclaim, but in 1947 it was disbanded once more and some of the dancers went as displaced persons to Australia or to the United States. Bandzevicius works and hopes. Some day, he said he will teach his seven-year-old son how to dance.

Most 1949 Nebraska Crimes Lacking 'Whodunit' Angle

... No Sherlock Holmes Needed To Tab Criminal

By BILL DEAN.

(Associated Press Staff Writer)

When a man gets the glint of murder in his eye, when a thief pokes a gun in someone's ribs, when an embezzler or forger takes his pen in hand, there's a promise of a grim but blood-tingling story. But the promise is rarely fulfilled.

The story unfolds without mystery or suspense. It becomes a colorless chain of events leading only to an anti-climactic end.

It wouldn't take a Sherlock Holmes to discover the criminal. A town constable or a cop on the beat could tab the guilty party in a minute in most of these crimes born of desperation, failing minds or plain stupidity.

Hanged Himself.

Look at some of the top Nebraska crimes you've read about in the last year:

In a lonely farmhouse not far from Omaha, an aged woman was hammered to death. Another died of blows from the same hammer.

In the gray hours of the next morning, officers found a little, bearded old man clad only in his underwear at the edge of nearby woods. He was George Froman, a helper at the farm, who, people said, drank too much and had argued with the old ladies.

They took the little man to jail. A couple of mornings later they found him hanged with his own belt.

Late one night in a cabin of a Minnesota lake retreat Lloyd N. Osborne, prominent Omaha real estate man, and his wife recalled the recently executed Jake Bird.

Before the night was over, Mrs. Osborne had been hacked to death with the cabin ax, and her husband had died of a killing dose of sleeping pills. Authorities called it murder and suicide.

Charles Dillard, female impersonator in a circus, was battered until he died one hot July night in a box car at Nebraska City.

Robbery Also Colorless.

It did take some police work to find George O. Wells, Jr., dismissed deckhand from an army engineers river dredge. A jury decided Wells was innocent of manslaughter in Dillard's death after he described how he hit Dillard after the circus performer attempted an act of sodomy.

Robbery was as colorless as murder.

In March, three youths forced their way into the home of an elderly widow near Ashland and stole $6,000. Even before they could get the money spent, they had been caught and sentenced.

In May, 63-year-old Chauncey Bird of Alliance, after 38 years as a postal employee, was charged with stealing mail. Said a Federal judge after Bird pleaded guilty: "Just a case of an old man letting down."

George Breeding was a 22-year-

A Howland-Swanson GIFT CERTIFICATE

Solves All Problems!

Gifts Are Needed For Patients In State Hospital

"We are your relatives, your neighbors, and your friends. Though illness has necessitated our presence in the hospital for a time, our regard and love for you is unabated."

"Just as heartily as in the years past, we wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!"

The above holiday greeting was sent this week from patients at the Lincoln state hospital.

Attention was also called to the fact that many of the 1,500 patients have no relatives or close friends. Their Christmas may be made more happy if you can assist the hospital by providing a gift.

Suggestions include cards for hospital store purchases (1); tobacco, candies, fruits, jewelry, games, publication subscriptions, cosmetics, books, stamped embroidery pieces and articles of wearing apparel.

The hospital suggests that you do not wrap the gifts but you may send the wrappings with the gifts so that the staff may prepare them for the Christmas tree. They may be sent in care of the superintendent.

Parties Planned.

Thursday the patients will be entertained with a cantata presented by the children of White Hall. Friday the recreation department and a patient choir will accompany Santa Claus with carols on the shut-in wards. Saturday a movie is planned in the auditorium.

Parties are scheduled for all next week. They will include an amateur hour with patient performers, Christmas dance, pinochle party, roller skating, bingo and another movie. Refreshments will be served at the daily parties.

Both protestant and Catholic services will be held on Christmas and New Year's day. Another dance will be held on New Year's.

For Christmas dinner the following menu is announced:

Roast turkey and dressing, mashed potatoes and gravy, celery, cranberries, mince pie, candy, nuts, apples, oranges and either milk or coffee.

Yule Luncheon—Optimists' wives will be guests at the annual Optimist club Christmas luncheon at the Cornhusker hotel Thursday noon. The Christmas message will be given by Rev. Gordon W. Schroeder, pastor of the First Baptist church.

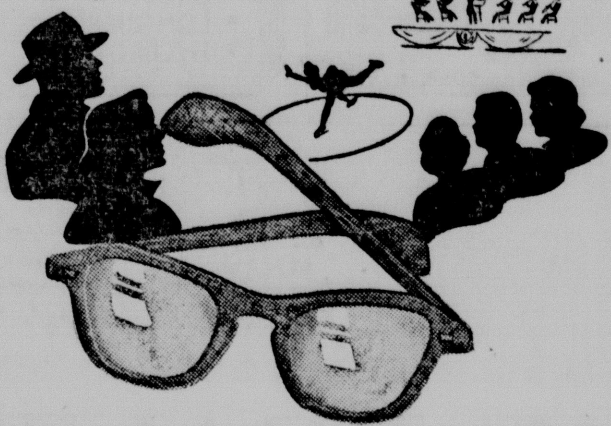

Glacier National Park, Montana, has more than 1,000 miles of trails.

Drilling On Schedule

CHADRON, Neb. —(AP)— Oil Driller Harry Hollingsworth says drilling on the Hollingsworth-Amerada test well in southern Dawes county is going ahead on schedule. A test well on the Katen ranch has been spudded in, he says, and surface pipe has been installed.

Lures Of Commies Are Told

'Women Without Morals' Used To Get Servicemen Into Party, Agent Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Testimony that the communist party used liquor and young women without morals to lure American servicemen to communism was made public last night by the senate judiciary committee.

The detailed testimony came from John J. Huber, who said he was an undercover FBI agent in the communist party from 1938 to 1947. The FBI declined comment.

Huber's testimony was heard behind closed doors weeks ago by a subcommittee studying the problem of subversive aliens. It has just now been released.

'No Morals Whatever'

Huber said girls who had "no morals whatever" and "went to any extremes" were used to lure soldiers, sailors, merchant marine school graduates and others to the communist party doctrines.

He pictured the communist party in this country as part of "a worldwide conspiracy" which takes orders from leaders in Moscow.

Huber said the eventual goal is overthrow of the present U. S. government by "force and violence."

Huber's testimony about party sessions, communist-front rallies and benefits, and communist training schools and camps was filled with scores of names.

SOS Club.

During the recent war, Huber said "one of the most ambitious" of the communist party to carry on its subversive work among members of the armed services was the establishment of an organization called SOS, sweethearts of servicemen."

"This group consisted of young women," he continued, "who were instructed to pick up servicemen off the streets and bring them to the SOS club rooms, where they were given liquor, entertainment and dancing."

Huber said the young women "were prepared to do—and they did—anything that the party assigned or demanded."

LAKELAND, Fla.—(INS)—The 70-year-old president of the In-

New Yorkers May Be Jailed For Wasting Precious Water

NEW YORK (AP)—Jail terms were threatened today for persons who waste water as the city struggled to make its skimpy water supply last longer.

Magistrate Morris Rothenberg fined nine men from $25 to $100 each yesterday for permitting leakage or other waste and commented:

"Our water supply is so critically low that drastic punishment of wasters is demanded and second offenders will probably get straight prison sentences."

International Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, William (Big Bill) Hutcheson, was married to Mrs. Madeline Wilson, 57, last night in the home of Albert I. Lodwich, well-known Lakeland industrialist.

Mrs. Wilson formerly was superintendent of the hospital at the union's national home in Lakeland.

Lodwich served as best man and Mrs. R. R. Norlin of Miami, niece of the bride, was matron of honor.

Stanley Sohl Wins Camera Club Prize

Stanley Sohl won first prize in the Print of the Month contest at a meeting of the Lincoln Camera club at the Y.M.C.A. Tuesday night. About 30 members attended the meeting.

Second and third place winners in the contest were Emmett Rein and E. A. Grone, respectively.

Plans for the annual banquet to be held Jan. 17, were also made. President John DePutron said that one man show of 50 prints by John R. Hogan will highlight the banquet.

In addition, a Photographic Society of America portfolio, which consists of prints and criticisms, will be examined by club members. Another print of the month contest will also be staged at the standing club print and member banquet meeting, and the out- of the year will be given an award.

DRAMATIC NEW BEAUTY... WITH AN ALL IMPORTANT DIFFERENCE

Soon you'll see brilliant new styling keyed to your comfort, safety, and convenience in the 1950 Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto, and Chrysler Cars.

BY K. T. KELLER
PRESIDENT, CHRYSLER CORPORATION

THERE HAS BEEN a good deal of fun poked at automobile designers in recent years. It is said that these talented and hard-working men have become so interested in the vague possibilities of mere "form" that they have forgotten the dimensions of the average garage and the anatomy of the average human body.

Here at Chrysler we learned long ago that unless a car is convenient, efficient, safe, and comfortable—it is not a really good motor car.

SOON, you will see four new Chrysler-built cars—the 1950 Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto and Chrysler. I think you will like them better than any other cars you have ever driven. They are great cars because they are deliberately designed with you in mind.

You want a beautiful car inside and out—the kind of beauty that is graceful and inviting. You will see this kind of new beauty in the crisp, clean lines of our new cars—in the interior trim and appointments. They further advance the distinctive style already established by Chrysler... style that matches "form" to function, that reflects efficient transportation and all-around excellence.

YOU want above all to be safe on the road. Our new cars have a combination of safe-driving features that allow you to see clearly, to drive or stop with ease, to maneuver freely, even in close quarters. You can enjoy the relaxation that in itself is such an important element in safe driving.

Then, you want to be comfortable... even getting in and out. You want enough headroom... even with your hat on—enough leg-room and enough elbow-room. You want to be able to sit naturally and not have to adjust yourself. And especially, you want to enjoy your car.

You want your car to serve you at a minimum cost per mile. Here, too, Chrysler's advanced engineering means so much. Each unit in our cars is designed to be dependable and efficient—and to play its part in lowering your operating and maintenance costs.

WE invite you to see them and try them when your Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto and Chrysler dealers put them on display in the near future. For 25 years we have worked and competed always to make cars that excel... and these new cars are the greatest values we have ever offered. Because nothing you want in comfort safety or performance has been sacrificed for styling, their new beauty is functional and honest, and very exciting!

You get the good things first from Chrysler Corporation

To All Of You From All Of Us—A Merry Christmas

One of the most beautiful of the mantel arrangements may be found in the living room at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. deBrown. There, framing the mirror that reaches from the mantel to the ceiling, are ropes of evergreen, and suspended from the upper greenery and reflected half-way length of the mirror are three clusters of chartreuse grapes caught with deep fuchsia satin ribbons. The grapes also nestled among the pine boughs which banked the mantel, which also was appointed with large chartreuse candles, graduated in height.

Christmas Eve, Christmas Day Time For Family Gathering

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Cook also have chosen Christmas eve for their traditional Christmas family dinner—at their home. The family group will, of course, include the two Cook sons, Dan and Bradford, Mr. Cook's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan W. Cook, his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Cook, their three daughters, Marne, Mary and Beth, Mrs. William Cook's mother, Mrs. Harold Lawrence, and Mrs. Dan Cook's sister, Mrs. Florence Mumford, all of Beatrice. Also included in the family group will be Mrs. George Cook's parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Coleman of Chappell, and her grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Fullerton.

Hal C. Mardis have had Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Martin as Christmas dinner guests, and this season will be no exception to the rule. In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Martin, the dinner guests will include Mr. and Mrs. George Peterman, son-in-law and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mardis, their two children, Gary and Lynn, and Mrs. Mardis' father, C. H. Swain of Parkersburg, Pa.

The Mardises dine early Christmas afternoon, and Christmas evening they will be joined by other members of the family—Mr. and Mrs. William L. Beachly and their daughter Susan, who will have dined earlier in the day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Beachly.

Other guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Beachly, their son, Ramey, and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Allen McPherson of Chicago.

Dining at Hotel Cornhusker on Christmas night will be a family group which includes Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Ricketts, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Folsom, Mr. and Mrs. Arnett Folsom, Mrs. Willard M. Folsom, Lowe Edmiston, Mr. and Mrs. Walter White and their son, Charles White, Miss Elva Baxter, Mrs. Newell Barnes, Mrs. Burton Whitmore and her daughter, Miss Mary Whitmore.

Arriving on Friday in time to spend Christmas with his family will be J. D. Selim of Charles City, Iowa. Mrs. Selim, the former Barbara DePutron, and her sons, Phil and Bill came to Lincoln ten days ago for a visit with her mother, Mrs. D. E. DePutron, before leaving the first of the year with Mr. Selim for Cleveland, Ohio, where they will make their home.

On Saturday evening, Mrs. DePutron will be hostess at her home at a family dinner honoring her guests. Besides the members of her family, which will include her son, John DePutron, Mrs. DePutron and daughter, Adrian, and Miss Marjorie Barstow, there will be Mr. Selim's brother, Floyd Selim, Mrs. Selim and their children, Patricia David and John, who will arrive in Lincoln on Friday from Bartlesville, Okla., Miss Madeline Girard and Mrs. Robert Gray.

Christmas morning, the family's traditional breakfast will be held at the home of Mrs. DePutron after which the group will be the guests of Miss Barstow for dinner later in the day.

THE LINCOLN STAR

SOCIETY—Wednesday, December 21, 1949

For her Christmas tree, Mrs. L. L. Coryell, jr. wanted something different, so she made the ornaments herself from tin cans. Cutting the cans just a few inches from the bottom, and fringing the tin around the circular piece, she made frames for pictures from past seasons' Christmas cards, and they really are lovely to behold.

The unusual arrangement on the mantel at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Roberts, has that Latin touch—The trees at either end came from Mexico, and are lighted by the candles which they screen. Of a silver metal, the trees are highly decorated with color.

UNIVERSITY PLACE

There seems to be considerable Christmas traveling in University Place—Leaving soon are Mrs. Edwin Radin, her brother, Ira Lindner, and her niece, Miss Blythe Lindner, who go to Rock Hill, S. C., to spend the holidays.

And mention of the Radins reminds us that Miss Maxine Radin, who drove her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Gove to Vero Beach, Fla., returns home Thursday via train.

Then—there are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Olander who plan to spend the holidays—or at least the Christmas week-end, in Stanton, Ia., where they will be the guests of Mrs. Olander's father, Eral Donahue, and Mrs. Olander's mother, Mrs. Ottelia Olander.

The Butlers—Mr. and Mrs. Duane—so we hear, are going to Edgar, where they will spend Christmas with Mrs. Butler's mother, Mrs. Laura Hinkson.

To Omaha for the holidays will go Mr. and Mrs. Gus Matson who will be the house guests of their sons-in-law and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Crossfield, and Mr. and Mrs. K. F. Peterson.

Even the fact that their grandparents will be away at Christmas hasn't dulled the anticipation of Gerry and Susan Matson who looked forward to last Thursday evening—Gerry and Susan, at this season of the year, are especially grateful for a Gamma Phi Beta mother, and the sorority's Christmas party for children of the alumnae.

Learned that George McDonald of Douglas, Wyo., is spend a few days as the guest of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John McDonald.

Young Robert Otterman, who was six years old on Saturday, hasn't yet learned that there are disadvantages in having a birthday so close to Christmas—Or has he? Maybe the young man is more acutely aware of the situation than we think—Anyway, Robert had a party Saturday and was exceedingly happy about the whole thing until he learned that the guest list was to be rather small—Then Robert rebelled—It was the matter of presents that concerned him—How can a fellow get lots of birthday gifts without lots of guests is what he wants to know.

Speaking of parties out University Place way—The members of a certain sewing club entertained their husbands at an annual party on Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Thacker. We learned that some of the members were on extensive trips the past summer, and were asked to show their movies.

This Friday evening Mrs. G. R. Newkirk was hostess to the members of the I.H.N. Sunday school class at a Christmas party at her home—And we understand that the Ninth Grade girls Sunday school class of the First Methodist church had a Christmas party Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Allen Sminger.

Mrs. Richard Spangler chose to have a frivolous motif in her vestibule this season. Matching the black wall paper, patterned with delicate white monkeys, is the tree branch, painted black, and hung with earrings, chains and bracelets. Here, also, reflection plays an important role in the decor—

Pre-Nuptial Dinner

Honoring her niece, Miss Helen Emily Sill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Sill, and Miss Sill's fiancé, Robert Thorne, of Laramie, Wyo., whose marriage will be solemnized at 5:30 o'clock, Thursday afternoon, Miss Grace L. Beede of Vermillion, S. D., will entertain at a pre-nuptial dinner Wednesday evening at the University Club.

Arrangements of white flowers and tall white tapers in the bridal motif will center the dinner table, and miniature corages of mistletoe and tiny gold wishbones tied with white tulle will mark the place of each guest.

Included among the twenty-eight guests, all members of the family and bridal party, will be Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Beede of Vermillion, S. D., Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Thorne of Enid, Okla., Mr.

and Mrs. Harold M. Thorne, parents of the bridegroom, Charles and Gordon Thorne, and Dee Lathan, all of Laramie, Wyo., and Miss Martha Slason of Mission, Kans.

MARGARET GETS GOP INVITATION

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Margaret Truman, the president's daughter, has been invited here by the Republicans.

Joseph Holt, president of the California Young Republicans, said yesterday he has telegraphed Miss Truman an invitation to sing at a gathering of the group here Jan. 15.

Holt, 25-year-old bachelor insurance salesman, was asked if he were angling for a date with Miss Truman.

"My own romance at the moment," he replied, "is to get rid of her father's taxes."

Short of Murder

Chapter 24

After Larry dropped Andrews at Holderness, three hours of steady driving, with time out for a snack at a wayside tavern, brought him to Salem.

Hackett slept late, and it was not till shortly after luncheon that he motored to the Hawthorne shrine.

On entering the house he found himself in a small room fairly filled with tourists. After collecting a small fee from each of the visitors, a fluent young woman with the air of an undergrad conducted them on a tour of the old timbered mansion.

Save for the absence of wainscoting, the dining room indeed resembled Franklin Sayre's, what with its beam ceiling, its fireplace between two doors in a paneled wall, and its other walls covered with elaborately figured paper.

Patient and watchful, the young cicerone stood at the hearth while the group in her charge randomly inspected the Windsor dining room set, the whatnots, and the paintings on the walls. Presently she moved to the arched door at the left of the fireplace.

"Will you all come here, please?" she requested and, opening the arched door, beckoned to the visitors to follow her into a spacious brick-lined closet.

Sensing a revelation of importance to him, Hackett quickly stepped forward and was the first of the visitors to enter the closet, the others surging in behind him. The guide laid her hand flat on the rear wall of the closet. "On the other side of this is a hidden stairway to 'Clifford's room,'" she said, and pushing hard with her hand caused the wall to move out of place.

A light flared in the newsman's mind, and his mind's eye saw another secret entrance to a hidden stairway in another old house—a secret passage the existence of which he had vaguely suspected, but to the location of which he had had no definite clue.

"Now," resumed the guide, "if you all will go up this stairway, I'll ascend the hall staircase and admit you to 'Clifford's room' through a secret, movable panel in its wall."

In impenetrable darkness, Hackett led the sightseers up the narrow stairway, feeling with the toe of his one shoe and then the other against the risers, his right hand trailing along the side and the back of the chimney around which the stairs wound. His left hand, outstretched protectively, presently touched the rough hand surface of a wooden wall.

He stood on the top step until a panel in the wall flew open and admitted a shaft of light to the stairway.

"This is 'Clifford's room,'" said the guide as Hackett stepped into a bedroom.

Pointing a finger at the stairway, Hackett asked the guide: "Was that secret passage there during Hawthorne's life?"

The young woman nodded. "It probably was installed by the builder of this house, over two hundred years ago," she replied. "It was supposedly designed as a place in which to hide valuable household effects if Indians raided the premises."

On arriving in Boston, Hackett motored directly to the Hotel Timberly. "Is Mr Theodore Cartwright a guest here?" he asked the room clerk.

The man behind the counter consulted a card-register. "He stayed here last night and checked out this morning," he replied.

Hackett frowned. "Do you know where he went?"

The clerk glanced at the register again. "He left a mail forwarding address—New York, care of the Savoy-Plaza."

Hackett stroked his chin thoughtfully. He was disappointed. Hackett drove from the hotel to Eben Daniels' Antiques. Myron Scott met Hackett at the door, muttered a brittle word of greeting, and sat down in a Chippendale chair.

"What do you want?" he asked ungraciously.

The newsman flipped his charred match into the air. "You're rather grouchy this afternoon," he said quietly.

Leveling a forefinger close to Hackett's face, Scott sneered. "You're a newspaper man, not a detective."

Hackett shrugged his broad shoulders. "At any rate, I never misrepresented myself to you. Your misconception was based on my association with Inspector Lavin, I suppose. What of it?"

"My affairs are none of your business," Hackett drew deeply on his cigarette, then stood up. "And maybe," he said, towering over Scott, "it's none of my business that shortly before the murder, you were not at home, as you falsely testified under oath this morning. You were with Virginia Lambert at Tony's Neapolitan Cafe."

A startled look came into Scott's eyes.

"But it is Inspector Lavin's business," the newsman went on, and you'll forfeit your half of the estate if you skip town." He sidled toward the door and tossed back over his shoulder: "So I'll be seeing you... in court."

Scott raised his hand. "Wait!" he said hoarsely. "Let's talk this over."

Hackett made an about-face and resumed his seat. "You'll be lucky if you get off with only a long stretch in stir, for perjury."

"My God, I didn't do anything wrong," Scott managed to say, his voice hoarse with craven fear. "You didn't go home when you left Tony's," declared Hackett, recalling Cartwright's statement to that effect. "You came direct to this shop, didn't you?"

Looking away, Scott made no reply.

"All right—I'll be going," Hackett made as if to rise.

His hand outstretched, Scott detained him. "Keep your seat," he pleaded, "and I'll tell you what I can. Yes, I came here."

"And met your cousin, Ed Bender, by appointment," the newsman ventured.

"Not by appointment. Ed was laying for me here, the dirty sneak," said Scott with considerable warmth.

Awarded Former Patrol Sergeant

... In Grenade Mishap

Rudolph Beckman, 3545 B, former Nebraska safety patrol sergeant, was awarded a $7,410 lump sum settlement for injuries suffered to his hands and left eye when a gas grenade detonator he was examining Feb. 7, 1949 exploded.

The award followed approval of the action in District court. Amount of the settlement was set in workmen's compensation court.

According to the court order, $3,000 of the settlement is assessed against the Federal Laboratories, Inc., of Pennsylvania, manufacturer of the detonator. Remainder is assessed against the state, Beckman's employer.

Beckman suffered the injury after he had picked up the detonator at the penitentiary where it had been left by the corporation as a sample. He was examining it at safety patrol headquarters when it exploded.

and two daughters, Mrs. Elsie Miller and Mrs. W. C. Beck, both of Scotia. Interment was in the Scotia cemetery.

Gable Honeymoons With His New Bride

... Lady Sylvia Reminiscent Of Carole Lombard

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — "The King" has a new lady—a laughing, lovely blonde reminiscent in many ways of the girl whose death kept him lonely and distant for almost eight years.

Clark Gable is honeymooning somewhere today with Lady Sylvia Stanley, the 39-year-old widow of Douglas Fairbanks, sr. They were married in a surprise ceremony late yesterday at a luxurious guest ranch 40 miles north of Santa Barbara, Calif. After the wedding, they departed for points unknown.

Sometime today or tomorrow they are expected to return to Hollywood, in time to sail tomorrow on a two-to-four-week junket to Honolulu.

Long-time Friends.

"The King," so-called because of his box-office drawing power, and Lady Sylvia long have been friends. She arrived here about 10 days ago, but there were no rumors of an engagement.

The new Mrs. Gable divorced Lord Stanley of Alderley 18 months ago. Gable, 48, is her fourth husband. She was divorced in 1935 by Lord Ashley, who named Fairbanks as co-respondent. Gable's first wife was Josephine Dillon. They were divorced six years later and in 1931 he married Ria Langham. Their divorce came in 1939.

Shortly afterward Gable took his third bride, actress Carole Lombard. Both had a great capacity for fun. Once she gave him a ham as a tribute to his acting.

War Record.

Miss Lombard was killed in 1942. The plane carrying her home from a war bond selling tour crashed near Las Vegas, Nev., carrying Carole, her mother, Mrs.

Elizabeth Peters, and 19 others to their deaths.

Gable mourned openly for months.

His last word from her had been a message from Amarillo, Tex. which said, "Hey, Pappy, you'd better get into this man's army."

Gable enlisted, demanding combat action. He was awarded the air medal and rose from private to major in the air force. He made several missions over Germany as a gunner.

Yesterday's ceremony was witnessed by a few close friends and some ranch hands.

State's Traffic Accidents Are Down 5 Per.

. . . Holiday Care Urged

Capt. C. J. Sanders of the Nebraska safety patrol reported Wednesday that traffic accidents in the first 11 months of 1949 were 5.8 per cent less than in the first 11 months of 1948.

The reduction was 18,529 for the period of 1948 to 17,154 through November of this year.

"This outstanding reduction of 1,375 accidents and the fact that there have been 14 fewer fatalities thus far this year than last year is an indication that accidents can be reduced and that Nebraskans have done much to make the state's safety program a success," he said.

The captain, however, warned that "continued alertness" will be necessary during the holidays if the state is to maintain its record.

"Make certain that the holly wreath in your home will not be replaced by a funeral wreath," he said. He particularly urged that drivers not include drinking as part of their holiday activities. "Statistics show drinking and driving just don't mix," he warned.

Specific precautions urged upon drivers for the holiday season are: alert driving, reasonable speeds, safe distance between cars, keeping windows and windshields clear and applying brakes gently until getting the "feel" of the road.

Power Policy Co-operation Is DiscussedConsumers And City Officials Talk Costs

City councilmen conferred with directors of Consumers Public Power district Tuesday night with an eye to future co-operation on power policy in Lincoln.

Consumer directors discussed certain aspects of distribution costs in the city and suggested the city co-operate with the district in an attempt to cut those costs.

City Engineer D. L. Erickson, who also is in charge of the city water and light department, was receptive to the suggestion and the council flashed the green light for further conferences between the two utilities.

Consumers officials at the meeting were H. L. Carson, district manager, and Ray Schacht of Columbus, general manager.

John Kruse, business manager of the city water and light department; Carl Fisher, deputy city engineer, and John Jacobson, city attorney, were also present at the meeting.

Schacht estimated it would take two months to prepare figures for the next meeting.

Nothing Strange About Large Families, Says Father Of 16 Children
WOODBURY, Conn.—(AP)—Mrs. Norman Cole, who is 39, gave birth to her 16th child, a daughter, at her home last night.

Thirteen of the children have been born here and all but one are living.

The proud father, a scrap metal dealer, doesn't believe large families are unusual. He has 14 brothers and sisters himself.

One Man's Opinion

BY WALTER KIERNAN

(Distributed by International News Serv.) All the other girls can now stop knitting Christmas socks for Bill O'Dwyer.

So there go Barkley and O'Dwyer, leaving only Rep. Joe Martin and there isn't much of a market for republicans . . . in office or out of office.

KIERNAN

We're kind of interested in this Peruvian girl who arrived in New York with a beauty title and $32,000,000. In fact we'd be interested even if she didn't have the title.

But $32,000,000 and a title undoubtedly make her the most beautiful girl in Manhattan until somebody comes along with $33,000,000.

Most beauties who arrive in New York are in search of a title. Or $32,000,000. Or both.

We've always thought of Peru as the home of an ancient civilization and old ruins but there's nothing broken down about that kind of dough.

Offhand I can't think of any red-blooded girl who might have arrived in Peru recently with any more than a beauty title and hope.

Mary Staberg Heads Danish Sisterhood

Danish Sisterhood lodge No. 90, Saturday elected Mary Staberg president. She succeeds Mrs. Marie Hansen.

Mrs. Karen Hansen was elected vice president, Margaret Sorensen, treasurer, and Adela Holck, secretary.

Other officers elected were: Mrs. Olga Olson, chaplain; Lauretta Davidson, marshal; Ann Ruth, innkeeper; Thea Zink, third trustee; and Mrs. Olga Nissen, outguard.

City's Planning Program May Be Under Way Soon

A city planning program—engineered by a St. Louis planning firm—may be under way in Lincoln within a month.

That was disclosed by the city planning commission at a meeting Tuesday. The contract, Commission Chairman E. J. Faulkner said, has been negotiated and is now in the hands of the federal bureau of roads.

The federal government is considering the contract because the planning commission anticipates federal-state participation to pay for most of the study.

The firm which will do the work is Harlan Bartholomew of St. Louis, Mo. Mr. Bartholomew will be in Lincoln next month to start the planning machinery to work.

Ted Sick Named President Lincoln Chamber For 1950

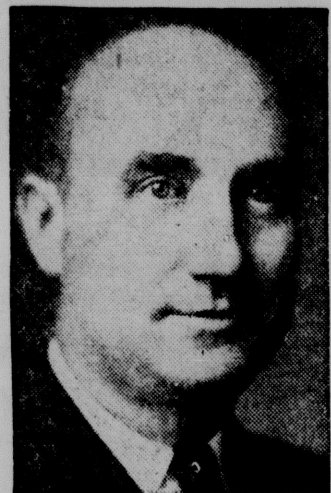

Ted A. Sick, president of the Security Mutual Life Insurance Co., was elected president of the Lincoln chamber of commerce at a special meeting of its board of directors Tuesday night at the Country club. He succeeds John F. Lawlor. O. Sick was first vice-president of the chamber during the past year, and a former president of the Lincoln junior chamber.

He has also served as president of the Community Chest and the Insurance Institute of Nebraska and as a member of the American Life convention.

Other Officers.
Other officers elected were: Clarence E. Swanson, president of Hovland-Swanson Co., first vice president. A past president of the Lincoln Better Business bureau, he is a former football captain at the University of Nebraska and has served on the board of education and the N.U. athletic board.

Robert A. Dobson, a partner in the Dobson Brothers Construction company, second vice president. An inspector and technical officer in the navy during World war II, he is the son of Arthur A. Dobson, a former chamber of commerce president.

Max E. Roper, secretary of organization since February, 1946.

Directors Installed.
All new officers were installed immediately following the election.

New chamber directors who were installed at the meeting were William I. Aitken, Carl A. Ganz, Don Pegler, sr., Dr. O. V. Calhoun, H. H. Wheeler and A. A. DuTeau. They were elected in recent balloting. Dr. Calhoun, Wheeler and DuTeau served on the board this year as appointees.

Grey R. Jewett, Neil B. Dietrich, jr., George A. Knight, Carl W. Olson and R. H. Rogers retired as members of the board of directors Tuesday night at the completion of three-year terms.

Work Reviewed.
Other retiring officers of the chamber are Giles O. Henkle and Lloyd J. Marti, vice-presidents, and George A. Knight, treasurer.

Retiring President Lawlor reviewed briefly the work of the chamber in the past year, and pointed up, particularly, its cooperation with city officials in securing the recent airport lease.

He announced a meeting of the chamber business expansion committee at the chamber of commerce Wednesday noon to discuss ways in which the chamber can make a bid for the location in Lincoln of the proposed air force academy.

Margaret's Personality Praised--But Not Voice

... Carnegie Hall Audience Is Enthusiastic

NEW YORK—(AP)—A packed Carnegie Hall audience gave Margaret Truman an enthusiastic ovation last night, and the music critics thought she was wonderful.

But they didn't think her voice was quite as pleasing as she was. The president's daughter, making her New York debut in a program carried over the network of the American Broadcasting Co., was accompanied by Frank Black's orchestra.

A soprano, Miss Truman sang several Christmas songs, including "Silent Night" and "O Little Town of Bethlehem." Also on the program: "America" and a Puccini aria, "O Mio Babbino Caro." President Absent.

President and Mrs. Truman weren't here for the half-hour concert. The critics praised Miss Truman for her poise and personality. But some didn't think much of her singing voice.

Metropolitan Opera tenor Lauritz Melchior, on hand for the concert, said Miss Truman "has the goods," but "you can't expect her to be a Melba right off."

(By International News Service) Daily Mirror critic Robert Coleman observed:

"We only wish we could say her voice was equal to her personality." He concluded that it wasn't. Virgil Thomson, music critic of the Herald-Tribune, gave as his verdict:

"The voice is small in size and range and not at all beautiful. The lower notes of it do not project and the upper ones are hollow. Nowhere is there any vibrancy or richness..."

FRANK C. BURNSIDE.
HASTINGS—Funeral services for Frank C. Burnside, 67, who died Friday at a local hospital after a brief illness, were held Monday. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Grace Burnside; two daughters, Mrs. Frank Humphrey of O'Neill, and Mrs. Frank Cook of Grand Island; four sons, Glen of Kent, Wash.; Clarence of Arnold, Earl, who is with the army overseas, and Merle, who is stationed with the air force in Mercedes, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. Len Higgins of Burtville, a brother, Everett, of Sedgewick, Colo., and 11 grandchildren.

Dr. Turpen Hurt In Crash Killing Two Ex-Nebraskans

NORTH PLATTE, Neb.—(AP)—Dr. I. C. Turpen of North Platte was seriously injured in an auto accident in Oklahoma City, according to word received here by his brother, A. H. Turpen.

Dr. Turpen, Vernon Connely, Culley Whipple and O. M. West were riding in a car when it and another collided. Connely of Oklahoma City was killed instantly and Whipple died en route to the hospital.

West and Dr. Turpen are in serious condition in Mercy hospital there.

West is a brother-in-law of R. F. Hunt of North Platte, and Connely and Whipple are former Curtis residents.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU

WEATHER BUREAU SUMMARY—The west center low pressure

Two Themes Conflict
George Malenkov, often spoken of as an heir to Stalin's power, underscored the "peace" theme and decried Stalin's repeated argument that communism and capitalism could co-exist peacefully, but another right hand man of the communist boss had harsh words for Premier Marshall Tito's proposals.

While Malenkov spoke of peace, Molotov lashed out at the United States and Britain. Their ruling circles, he said, "are feverishly preparing for a new war" for world domination.

Outside the satellite orbit, other communists were equally lavish in their praise and promises.

Diplomatic greetings came also from western democratic countries and from non-communist and nervous neighbors.

Denmark, on the doorstep of the communist world, sent "sin-
